MY GREAT-GRANDMOTHER*
EMMA TIPTON GILLET

MANY FRIENDS AT FUNERAL SERVICES OF MRS. GILLETT

The funeral of Mrs. F. Z. Gillett was held from the Christian church in Burlington at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon and a large crowd attended the funeral. Rev. S. H. Barley conducted the services. Mrs S. H. arley, Mrs. Lewis Eccles, W. T. Phares and Ancil Beavers sang "Beautiful Isle", "Shall We Gather at the River" and "No Night There". They were accompanied at the piano by Miss Melita Hamman. Pallbearers were Solen Paxon, B. B. Snell, Howard Patterson, Harry Pennock, E. O. Grant and E. G. Woods. Interment was in Graceland cemetery.

Emma Tipton, eldest child of Roads and Rebecca Tipton was born near Lawrence, July 6, 1854 and departed this life January 21, 1932. Mrs. Gillett moved with her parents to La Cygne, when a small girl. Here she was united to Freeman Z. Gillett, October 16, 1870. They came to Coffey county in about the year 1873, homesteading the place where she resided at the time of her death. "Grandma", as she was known to her friends knew the trials and hardships of pioneer life.

To this unin were born seven children, three having preceded her in death Woods, Frank and Ella Swibold. Those left to mourn her departure besides her aged husband are her three sons, Wilson and John F. of near Burlington, Edward of Osawatomie and one daughter, Mabel McEnterfer, of Emporia. Nine grandchildren and eight great grandchildren and other relatives and a host of friends. Mrs. Gillett was converted in a meeting held at what is known as the Gillett school house a great many years ago, having no class at this place she never placed her membership elsewhere. Mrs. Gillett was a woman who lived at home administering to the needs of her family, and was loved by all who knew her.

2. Who were the parents of John Tippie Sr.? If not Uriah and _?_ , then who?

12. What evidence exists that any Tippie-Tipton actively engaged in Ks. guerrilla warfare to make Ks. a Free State 1854-1861? (I have already cited references to their enlistments in Ks. in the great Civil War Between the States 1861-1865).
13. Who is the physician of Mapleton, Ks. - Michael Tippie?

Hunting the past?

I WILL SHARE INFORMATION

In my long research of the Tippie-Tipton clan and its westward migrations, I have come by considerable store of information gleaned from one record or another. But, of course, I still have more questions than answers.

But I will refer to my files, if I can be of help to you in your ancestor search. You may write to

WHAT I KNOW about RHODES and REBECCA TIPTON in the 1860's in the State of Kansas

1. In 1860 they resided as farmers in Scott Township of Linn County (near the settlement of Brooklin), together with the 3 children of their marriage. See Ks. census of 1860, page 22.

2. Between 1854-1861 Kansas Territory suffered a brutal guerrilla war - a prelude to the great Civil War - which involved Old John Brown of Ossawatomie, Sen. Jim Lane, James Montgomery, Hamelton and Quantrill and others. Much bloodshed came to those eastern Kansas counties bordering the state of Missouri, especially in Linn County where Rhodes Tipton lived. His family did not escape the suffering all too common to that area. See pg. 17

3. Thelma Hegwald (Emma Tipton Gillet's granddaughter) reports that RHODES TIPTON was killed in the "civil war", in 1861 in Linn Co. While I have not been able to confirm this with any documentary evidence, I believe his death may have resulted from the guerrila conflict raging between the Kansans and the Missourians at that time.

4. Two sons of RHODES TIPTON of Linn County, Ks. enlisted in the great Civil War (the WAR BETWEEN THE STATES): (1. William Tipton, Co. F, 14th Ks. Cav; he died in military service 6 July, 1864 at Fort Smith, Ark. (2. Charles B. Tipton, a cook in Co. H, 7th Ks. Cavalry. NOTE: Rhodes' other grown son - Jarrett Daniel Tipton moved with his family first to Nevada Territory (Ruby Valley) in 1861, and then to Arizona Territory in 1870; he died in Phoenix in 1915.

   Four sons of John Tippie, jr. of Linn County, Ks. enlisted in the Civil War - all in the Ks. Cavalry, namely, Joseph D., Granville C., Hathaway D. and Phillip T.

   Three sons of Dr. Michael Tippie, sr.[of Mapleton (Bourbon County), Ks.]all enlisted in the same war; namely, Alexander L.; and Michael jr. and Reason, both in the 4th Ks. Volunteers. (Source: Ks. Mil. Civil War records, film #0881 844-845, LDS archives).

5. REBECCA TIPTON, widow, owned several fanms - 2 in Linn County- one, the old Tipton place in Scott Twp. near Brooklin; the other, on the Marais des Cygne River. And she inherited the farm of her unmarried son Alexander Moore killed in the Civil War at Helena, Arkansas in 1863, a piece of land over in Coffey County, Ks.

WHAT I KNOW about RHODES and REBECCA TIPTON in KANSAS TERRITORY in the 1850's

1. The first child born of this union was my great-grandmother Emma Tipton (Gillet) on July 6, 1854 near the town of Lawrence, Kansas. See pg. 5

2. RHODES TIPTON and several family members appeared in the first territorial census of Kansas for First District in Feb., 1855. See schedule on page 19.

3. Rhodes Tipton and two adult sons (William Tipton, and Jarrett Tipton) and two sons-in-law (John Powell, and John A. Chafer), all originating from Iowa, were registered as legal voters in First District. See schedule on page 20.

4. RHODES TIPTON'S oldest son, William of his first marriage, wed Mary Oliver, 24 Sept., 1857. (Ks. Terr. newspaper). A little later, Rhodes' second son Jarrett Daniel Tipton was married to Margaret Oliver. All four young people were from Stanton, Lykens County (now Miami County), Ks. See pg. 23.

WHAT I KNOW about RHODES TIPTON in IOWA in the 1850's

1. His actual whereabouts is unknown in 1850. Could he have gone on one of the expeditions originating in Van Buren County in 1850 (one led by Capt. Zechariah Walker, for example) to the gold fields of California?

2. Most of his minor children are found in one Van Buren home or another at the taking of the census in 1850. See the Iowa census of 1850 for Van Buren County, Iowa, page 14.

3. It is known that on 22 September, 1853 widower RHODES TIPTON was married to widow Rebecca Forbes Moore in Van Buren County, Ia. (Microfilm #09677640, LDS Archives, Salt Lake City). See pg. 8

4. Between marriage and July of 1854 this couple moved to the newly created Territory of Kansas, taking their combined families with them, which including in-laws and grandchildren numbered at least 18. See pgs. 3 and 19.

TIPTON: Move to Linn Co, Ks., 185~~5~~6

In ~~1855~~ 1854 the U.S. govt bought the Miami Indian land in E. Ks. & opened it to white settlement. Mo. Pro-slavers sternly ~~vowed~~ warned they would shoot ~~down the~~ free-staters down like wolves if they came in to farm the "Yankee" way - meaning growing corn & wheat instead of hemp & cotton (requiring much slave labor) as did their own farms along the ~~Ks~~ Mo border. ~~In 1855~~ Settlers swarmed in. ¶ Rhodes Tipton arrived in LINN CO. June 1, 1855. His family then consisted of minors infant Emma, Ellen 16, Jane 15 & Margaret 8. Rhodes married daughters Caroline S ___ & Mary Ann P ___ possibly were in Shawnee Co came w/him. No evidence that a Tipton sons Chas 18, Wm. & Jarret. Rebecca's sons by Thos. Moore - John & (Alex?)? was still in Iowa farming the old home place in Van Buren Co.

Rhodes likely preempted a claim at Brooklin, in Scott Twp. ~~a strong Pro-slaver settlement~~. He left the next year, ~~perhaps~~ likely under duress as Pro-slavers successfully drove ~~out~~ away and burned out many a Free-Stater. Had he time to harvest even one crop, or line a bee tree for sweetening? No school for the childrens' book learning was in place, & no proper church. Itinerant preachers – Bible in one hand & a gun in the other – sometimes called for a meeting in a settlers' cabin. ~~One~~ Two ~~state~~ local preacher were ardent Free-Stater ~~Capt.~~ Jas. Montgomery & Zack Gower, members of an organized band of ~~Free Staters~~ to defend Free Staters' lives & property. Among those who remained in Brooklin in 1856 were the families of Sibbet, Leasure, ~~Crowger~~, ~~&~~ Sheek, & Gowing – and who would once again be Tipton's neighbors when he returned to Brooklin ~~once~~ again in 1859. But these valued friends lived to suffer at the hands of marauding bushwhackers. Post-master Sibbet once managed to escape – in a hotel. Leasure, ~~sto~~ of Ia as ~~was Rhodes~~, was friend of ~~both Capt. Jas Montgomery & abolitionist Osawatomie Old John Brown briefly come to Linn Co~~ & of Capt Jas Montgomery whose house was ~~lost~~ burned down by bushwhackers, but & promptly rebuilt, strong as a fort with portholes for defense, providing protection for the

THE MISSOURI COMPROMISE OF 1820 PROHIBITED SLAVERY NORTH OF PARALLEL 36 DEGREES 30 MINUTES.

THIS AGREEMENT WAS ABROGATED ON MAY 30, 1854 WHEN PRESIDENT FRANKLIN PIERCE SIGNED THE KANSAS-NEBRASKA ACT WHICH PROVIDED FOR THE ORGANIZATION OF THE KANSAS TERRITORY IN PREPARATION FOR STATEHOOD. THIS ACT REQUIRED THE CITIZENS OF THE TERRITORY TO VOTE ON THE ISSUE OF SLAVERY.

DISAGREEMENT AS TO WHAT CONSTITUTED BONA FIDE RESIDENTS AND AUTHORIZED VOTERS LED TO SUCH OUTCRIES OF 'FRAUD' THAT ON MARCH 19, 1856 THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE U.S. CONGRESS APPOINTED A SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE TROUBLES IN KANSAS.

IN JULY OF 1856, THE COMMITTEE SUBMITTED TO THE CONGRESS ITS REPORT (H.O.R. 200) AND IT WAS ORDERED THAT TWENTY-THOUSAND COPIES OF THE COMPLETE REPORT BE PRINTED. THIS 1391-PAGE VOLUME CONSISTED OF FOUR PARTS:

I have seen this report at Doug Co Hist Soc, Lawrence 10th & Mass. but it was not indexed

(1) THE MAJORITY COMMITTEE REPORT OF 67 PAGES;
(2) THE MINORITY COMMITTEE REPORT OF 42 PAGES;
(3) THE MINUTES OF THE COMMITTEE MEETINGS, 22 PAGES; AND
(4) 1260 PAGES OF TESTIMONY, INCLUDING THE LISTS OF NAMES FROM THE CENSUS RECORDS, POLL BOOKS AND VOTING REGISTERS.

THE COMPILER OF THIS INDEX SOUGHT, THEN ACQUIRED BY BARTER, A COPY OF THE COMPLETE REPORT FOR IT CONTAINED THE TESTIMONY OF HIS GREAT GRANDFATHER, HAMMOND CLARK MUZZY, WHO CAME TO KANSAS FROM MASSACHUSETTS UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE FOURTH PARTY OF THE MASSACHUSETTS EMIGRANT AID SOCIETY.

FINDING ONLY A TABLE OF CONTENTS, AND NO INDEX, THE TASK OF INDEXING THE NAMES WAS UNDERTAKEN. THE RESULT IS AN ALPHABETICAL LISTING, WITH PAGE REFERENCE NUMBERS, OF OVER 20,000 NAMES OF THOSE PERSONS INVOLVED IN THE ESTABLISHMENT OF KANSAS AS THE 34TH STATE TO ENTER THE UNION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

IT IS TO THE MEMORY AND DESCENDANTS OF

HAMMOND CLARK MUZZY

THAT THIS INDEX IS DEDICATED.

I have researched, written and documented a 63 page genealogy-historical narrative entitled THE STORY OF URIAH TIPPIE OF OHIO (1759-1848) and of SOME OF HIS KANSAS DESCENDANTS IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.

Uriah Tippie was a Revolutionary War soldier who crossed the Delaware with Washington's troops at the Battle of Trenton (War File #W25487). He was a pioneer farmer and shoe-cobbler in Athens County, Ohio from earliest statehood. Some of his Kansas descendants settled in Linn County in 1859 during the turbulent days of "border troubles"; these got caught up in the ensuing guerrilla warfare and its tragic aftermath.

The work is now in from the printers; it is ready to be bound in soft cover.

One copy will be sent to the Family History Archives in Salt Lake City. The remaining four copies are to be distributed to selected Kansas and Ohio Historical Libraries, and/or County Historical Societies - gratis, of course.

Should your Association be interested in receiving one of these copies, please inform me of your request.

Sincerely yours,

Gladys Dodd

Lines 89–200 have Brooklyn as P.O. Scott Twp.

A cursory examation of all residents in Scott Twp. with Brooklyn P.O. indicate the following generalization.

1. Most are farmers altho all do not own farms; tradesmen + professions include carpenters, miller, wagon maker, blacksmith etc.
2. Many family heads can not read or write
3. Places of birth of adult males and their spouses show:

a. Northerners outnumber Southerners 2 to 1.

b. Spouses are frequently regionally ÷, i.e. Ind w/Tenn, or Pa. w/ Ky, etc.

c. These families tend to have children born in central states, such as IA., ILL., K.T., KY. + MO.

d. Missourian residents are in a definite minority numerically. (Were all southerners called "Missourians" by local historians?)

All Northerners were called "Abolitionists" in Linn Co.

4. While most residents were youngish, not a few appeared old as Rhodes Tipton, or older.

Martha G. or Martha J. was only 11 in 1855.

He & both parents b. in Ky.

Conjecture: Wm (son of Rhodes) may have been married before 1857 when he m. Mary (1857) Oliver at Stanton. Is Martha G. his first wife (Census of 1855), and "Walerra" this son [b. 1855] "Rhodes"? Unlikely as Wm lives with Jno & Caroline Powell in '55

Dear Gladys,

I didnt seem to have too much luck re: your Tiptons. (You probably have all I am enclosing). Surely Rhodes Tipton is buried in Prarie Home (Ewing) Cemetery since so close to their home? Also a child buried there in 1861 warrants such a fact. Of course, she or her stone could have been moved there from another burial place.

on Tipton property

I cannot find Rhodes Tipton in the list of dead in Ks. Military records - nor is he in the 1860 Mortality Schedule. Odd

d. young

Margaret not in 1860 Census - unless she had married MORE at 13 yrs early in 1860 before census taken. (the More I checked for, wasnt there. Might find some time.

Note: Margaret More is Rebecca Tipton's dau by 1st marriage

I could not find a probate for either of them. Sarah A Tipton listed in index but when I looked at papers them selves - she is listed as Tippie! By Sarah's number 203, she also died soon after 1860. Since she was b. Alabama, I didnt read through the papers. Doubted if your kin

No probate. For will

I find the son of 1/M in Miami Co
Cemetery + Census
notice Census differs on Rebecca's birth place.
of course one finds such [illegible] often - the others
are also different Emily (Emma) Ky + Mo;
Sarah Ky + Ks. agrees on Edward - K.T.
why Rebeccas farm worth listed after Edward?

am enclosing our fliers so you may see how we operate somewhat, I grew up with Tiptons across the line in Bates & Vernon Co Mo namely Thomas B Tipton son of George and Belle (   ) Tipton - Came (Geo) came here from England as a child + served in Civil War from Ohio. He could have been a brother of
NO Rhodes?? Thomas had 2 younger brothers.
His parents moved from Richards Mo ca 1910 to near Miami Okla.

Thanks so much for your letter and good luck at Salt Lake City. note - did you try Ks. Military Records - often not at D.C.? oh - I see you have done so.

I have researched, written and documented a 63 page genealogy-historical narrative entitled THE STORY OF URIAH TIPPIE OF OHIO (1759-1848) and of SOME OF HIS KANSAS DESCENDANTS IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.

Uriah Tippie was a Revolutionary War soldier who crossed the Delaware with Washington's troops at the Battle of Trenton (War File #W25487). He was a pioneer farmer and shoe-cobbler in Athens County, Ohio from earliest statehood. Some of his Kansas descendants settled in Linn County in 1859 during the turbulent days of "border troubles"; these got caught up in the ensuing guerrilla warfare and its tragic aftermath.

The work is now in from the printers; it is ready to be bound in soft cover.

One copy will be sent to the Family History Archives in Salt Lake City. The remaining four copies are to be distributed to selected Kansas and Ohio Historical Libraries, and/or County Historical Societies - gratis, of course.

Should your Association be interested in receiving one of these copies, please inform me of your request.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Gladys,

Thank you for writing to us about your book. Of Course! We would be proud & pleased to have a copy of your book.

Sounds like your research has been very rewarding. I found of interest that your ancestor crossed the Delaware with Washington! I am a member of the National Society of Washington family descendants. My 8th Gr. Grandparents were Washingtons Great Grandparents! I had to prove 13 generations for that one!

I checked our Harding file & did not find anything about the trip to Alaska or Canada, but will continue to watch for it.

Sincerely,
Ola May Earnest

P.S. Will add your queries.

PREFACE

For a lengthy period the writer of this research narrative supposed that her ancestor, RHODES TIPTON, was a son or grandson of Uriah Tippey, the old Revolutionary War soldier who crossed the Delaware with General Washington's army that bitter Christmas Eve before the Battle of Trenton. At least she hoped so.

And there are remarkable coincidences to suggest that.

They both lived in Athens County, Ohio when both surnames have been transcribed both Tippy and Tipton in the census of 1840. The name has been variously spelled Tipton, Teppe, Tippey, Tippee, Tippy, Tipy, Tippe and Tippie. The latter is the usual spelling of Uriah Tippey's descendants today.

Then these former Ohioans meet again in Kansas Territory in the days of "Bleeding Kansas", when guerilla warfare raged on its eastern border.

For in 1858-59, both Rhodes Tipton my ancestor (lately of Van Buren County, Iowa, but formerly of Athens County, Ohio), and the son and grandson and great-grandsons of Uriah Tippey, namely the family of John Tippie, Sr. of Athens County, Ohio, show up in Linn County, Kansas - some in the same township. These families lived and died and were buried within a short radius of Brooklin, a Scott Township settlement which proved to be the scene of much bloodshed and pillage and burning during the days of the infamous "border troubles".

Rhodes Tipton and his second wife Rebecca, whom he married in Iowa in 1853, arrived in Kansas by July 6, 1854 where their first child Emma (my great-grandmother) was born "near Lawrence". They brought with them his children and her children by their first marriages and whatever spouses and issue these had acquired in Iowa.

Rhodes Tipton left the Lawrence area and came to Linn County June 1, 1855, the year before Clarke's Raid at Brooklin. Perhaps it was that burning and looting which impoverished him, for in 1856 he took his family to Johnson County 45 miles north, and preempted a claim one mile south of the Shawnee Methodist Mission founded by Rev. Thomas Johnson a quarter century earlier. Documents show that Rhodes Tipton "improved" these 160 acres for a couple of years, then relinquished his title to the reverend missionary in a suit settled by arbitration in 1859.

Then Rhodes Tipton took his family back to Linn County to Brooklin, still the scene of many a depredation executed by bushwhackers from Missouri. By this date the Tippies from Athens County, Ohio had arrived to Linn County as well

It is known that John Tippie, Sr., his wife Elizabeth and their son John Tippie, Jr., all died within 90 days of the other in 1859, and were buried in Graveyard Mound near Brooklin, practically in sight of Rhodes Tipton's farm.

THE STORY OF URIAH TIPPIE OF OHIO (1759 - 1848) and of SOME OF HIS KANSAS DESCENDANTS in the Nineteenth Century

by
Gladys Dodd
Arvada, Colorado

1990

From 1796 squatters thinly occupied the forests of Ohio with cabins 8 to 10 miles apart as Revolutionary soldiers claimed their military grants from that period. But the great migrations occurred the first decade of the 1800's.

It is known that one Uriah Tippey (Tippy, Tipton, Tepper), a Revolutionary soldier, was the first of this surname to arrive in Ohio. He appears in the first Ohio census - 1803 - the year that state became the first to be carved out of the Old Northwest Territory. He settled in what was then Washington County, an area later made into smaller counties, including Athens County at which place the old soldier died in 1848, age 89.[1]

The family name Tippey was variously spelled in early records. For example, census records show Uriah was Tippy in Pennsylvania in 1800, but in Athens County, Ohio, where this identical man settled, he was Tippey in 1803, Tipton in 1810, Tepper in 1820, Tippy in 1830, with the name transcribed both Tippy and Tipton in 1840. Even his Revolutionary War papers record him as Tippey, Tippee, Tippy, and once even as Triplett but Tippie is the usual spelling. [2] This identical Uriah's surname is variously spelled in the Pennsylvania Archives American Revolution notes as Tipy, Tippy and Tippe.[3]

In like manner, one of Uriah's sons - John, Sr.- was Tipton in 1810, Tepper in 1820, Tippy in 1830 and 1840, but Tippee in 1850. Uriah's grandson - John, Jr. - formerly identified as Tippe, Tippy, Tippe, and Tipton, also became a Tippie in 1850. Some descendants of the old soldier retain the Tippie spelling to this day.

As spelling was less standardized than today, census takers and later transcribers, have played havoc with spellings of the surname- much to the genealogist's consternation! In order not to confound the reader then, this paper will refer to the Revolutionary War soldier Uriah, and his son John, Sr. and his grandson John, Jr. as Tippie.

[1] The DAR roster says that Uriah Tippey of Athens Co. O. was 102 yrs, 11 mos. and 9 days at his death. This, of course,is in error if the 1757 date of birth is correct as all others sources agree. The date of death- 1848- is repeatedly cited in Rev. War file #W25487.

[2] Fed. & St. Census, Pa. & O. -1800-1850; Rev. War File, p. 0454.

In any case, the name Tipton, or some variant spelling thereof, appears to be not an uncommon surname in 18th century Pennsylvania, particularly in the mining districts. One theory holds that one early Tipton came to these shores as a Welsh cooper by trade. He is said to have been hidden in a barrel and smuggled to America. He too settled in the Alleghenies as did Uriah. Records indicate the barrel passage did him no harm for he lived to be 105.[1]

Some descendants of old Uriah Tippie, however, believe their lineage originated in Germany in the early 1700's. According to this research compiled by J. F. Tippie (1981), one Christian Tippe [2] (b. 1706) emigrated from the Palatinate to Philadelphia on the good ship "Princess Augusta", 16 Sept., 1736, bringing with him a young son (Johannes) who had been born 1726-27 in Rheinland-Pfalz, Germany.

It is believed that old Uriah Tippie was the second son of this farmer Johannes Tippe who had married Susanna (b. 1730) in 1747 or 1748, possibly in New Jersey. This couple is thought to have parented at least 3 sons:

1. Phillip, born 1748 in N.J., and who married by 1768 at Allen, Northampton Co., Pa.
2. George (?), b. after 1755 and still living in York Co., Pa. in 1800.
3. * our Uriah, b. 16 July, 1759 at Monmouth C.H., East Jersey, and who died 27 June, 1848 as a Revolutionary War pensioner at Ames, Athens Co., Ohio.[3]

Nothing is known further of the immigrant Christian Tippe by this writer. But the elder Tippe's (Johannes and Susanna) died in Pa. - Johannes at Leigh, Northampton Co. in 1796 and was buried at Stone Lutheran Church. Cemetery at Kriedersville, Pa., and a few yrs. later (after 1801) his wife Susanna died at Allen or Lehigh.

Kriedersville was a post village on the main road to Bethlehem. It contained a few houses, a grist mill and a slate quarry. One mile from the village was "Zion's Kirche", a church belonging to both the German Reformed and the Lutherans.

[3] An interesting observation can be made here. Uriah Tippie's German origin could be inferred from the way his attorney (A.G. Brown) records the way Uriah pronounced his Capt. VanEttan's name - as "Yannatta". The German, of course, has difficulty in the pronounciation of the letter V. See Rev. File #W25487, p. 0429.

URIAH TIPPIE, THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR SOLDIER

In 1776 the Tippie family - Johannes and Susanna and their three sons - lived in Tinicum township in Bucks County, Pennsylvania. Late in that year Uriah Tippie, then age 17, entered military service from this place, having volunteered for a tour of 2 months in a company of 75 raised by Capt. Nicky Patterson, a merchant and tavernkeeper at Tinicum on the Delaware River. During the heat of August and September this company was quartered as guard of provisions and stores near Newtown at a place called the Tory's house, only 21 miles from Philadelphia. His company dismissed, Uriah returned home to recuperate from the fever which had plagued him on much of this tour.[1]

Just before Christmas in 1776, Uriah volunteered for another 2 months in Capt. Patterson's company. At this time Uriah Tippie was marched to the Delaware River where he joined Gen. George Washington's Continental Army and participated in the famous ice-clogged Delaware crossing on Christmas night during a wild storm.[2]

This little army of only 2400 then marched the 9 miles to Trenton to the British-Hession garrison. During a sleet storm in a surprise daybreak attack, the Continentals, including Capt. Patterson's company, caught the hated Hessisns sleeping off the effects of their Christmas celebration and in a one hour battle routed the mercenaries, taking 1000 prisoners while suffering only 6 casualities of their own. This victory over European-trained professional soldiers gave a major boost to American morale.

After this battle, Patterson's company recrossed the Delaware and marched to Buslletonen (?) to engage in one arduous duty or another. After the company was dismissed, Uriah Tippie slogged home in March mud. That same year of 1777 the Tippie family moved to Allen township in Northampton County, Pa. which place continued to be Uriah's residence until the war's end.[3]

It is supposed by the writer that Johannes Tippie engaged in farming as his home was 2 1/2 miles from Allentown.[4] This village had been laid out one-half mile from the Lehigh River in 1752 by a friend of the Penn family. It was 6 miles from Bethlehem and 55 from Philadelphia. Cut off from post routes, it remained small, being inhabited by a few wealthy and unenterprising Germans. Then the Welsh and Scotch-Irish came to settle in this Moravian country and in their wake came George Whitfield, the powerful preacher of England who had been an associate of the Wesleys, but he was now gone with his open-air preaching. And so was David Brainard, missionary to the Indians. But in Tippie days Indians still abounded, and so did much wampum on long strings.

[4] Op. cit., p. 0447

As an old man applying for military pension in Ohio in 1835, Uriah Tippie vividly recounted the crossing of the Delaware with Washington in his testimony of declaration. He also recalled one tragedy:-that somewhere along the way on his first tour that their drummer Joseph, son of his Capt. Patterson, deserted -- to the British![1]

In the autumn of 1777, Uriah, now 18, again volunteered for a 2 months tour in a company raised and commanded by Capt. Frederick Coons of Allen township, Northampton County. Coons marched his company to Milkhouse Tavern, and thence in the night to Germantown (but did not engage in the battle ensuing there), and on to Frankfort Bridge to stand guard to prevent Tories from carrying provisions into Philadelphia to aid the British quartered there. After 2 months, Uriah returned home to Allen township to his father Johannes.[2]

The following spring of 1778, Uriah volunteered once again[3] (6th Co., 4th Battalion of Northampton),-this time for a tour of seven months. Enlisting in May in Allentown at the crossroads tavern of Coonrod Crider (near Johannes Tippie's place), Uriah received his bounty - $20 in Continental money.[4] Capt. Van Ettan of Minisauk led this company, although his enlisting officer was Powell Canouse. Van Ettan was an able soldier having fought under Gen. Mad Anthony Wayne at the Battle of Brandywine the year before (Sept. 9-11, 1777); Benjamin Franklin was to give the captain land along the Delaware for his services in this battle.

July 3, 1778, Indians massacred settlers in the Wyoming Valley of northern Pa. Apparently Uriah with his company led by this Capt. Van Ettan was already quartered here at a station commanded by Col. Jacob Stroud, owner of farms and mills, a man of great wealth. Uriah remained on duty here for 5 months, making several expeditions into Indian country under the experienced Indian fighter, Lt. Robert Fish. Spacing their men about one rod apart in the event of Indian ambush, Uriah's officers led the troops through pine swamps to quell Indian uprisings. For his services on this tour, Uriah Tippie received from Col. Stroud 5 pounds in states' (Pa.) money.[5]

Then with his officers' consent Uriah again returned home to assist his father, but having 2 months yet in his term of enlistment he hired a substitute, John Couts by name, for 50 shillings a month to finish his tour of duty. Unfortunately Couts was killed later in the Indian expedition of Sept. 11, 1780, along with 13 others.

[4] Rev. War File #W25487, Bartlett

[5] Ibid., p. 0447.

It appears that Uriah Tippie had several brief enlistments after Cout's death. The very next month (18 Oct., 1780), he appears on the muster roll of Capt. Paul Knaus in the 8th Co. of the 3rd Battalion commanded by Lt. Col. Nichols Kern, Esqr., and again in the same company with the same Captain in May, 1781, and in the spring of 1782.[1]

According to the affadavits of 1835 compiled by clerk Bartlett of Athens County, Ohio, the record of Uriah Tippie's term of service in the War of the Revolution stood then at one year and one month, all of it served in Pennsylvania except for the battle in Trenton, New Jersey. Apparently his stint as teamster for Col. Stroud did not count. This latter patriotic duty exercised by Uriah was supplied in 1779 when he was employed as waggoner by Col. Stroud's company to transport the considerable baggage of General Sullivan's army from Easton to the Wyoming Valley of Pennsylvania.[2]

Thus ends the war records of one Private Uriah Tippie.

November 1782, the last battle of the Revolution was fought by George Rogers Clark over in a place called Ohio, a territory Uriah Tippie would move to in 21 years hence.

In February, 1783 Great Britain officially declared an end to the hostilities in America, with the American Congress formally proclaiming an end to the Revolution against Great Britain two months later. In December Gen. Washington resigned his commission as commander-in-chief of the Continental Army. The new nation was now at peace.

At wars' end or soon thereafter, ex-private Uriah Tippie was married to Sarah Ann (b. 1762) in Northampton County, Pennsylvania (about 1783).

In 1784 citizen George Washington toured the western territories, recently acquired from England in the peace negotiations, to survey possibilities for land development. In January 1785, Indians ceded to the U.S. nearly all land in the present-day state of Ohio *(but the area would not be open to white settlement until 1797).

According to family lore, Uriah Tippie and his wife Sarah Ann had 2 children by 1786. Both of these children drowned in a Pennsylvania flood known locally as Tippey's Flood, or the Flood of '86.[3]

[3] Carol Milam papers, submitted to the Athens Co., O. Hist Soc.

As the story goes on the night of Oct. 6, 1786, valley people were roused up with a shout, for the Lehigh had swollen so rapidly that families only had time to pen their sheep in their houses and seek refuge for themselves on rooftops. Tippey and his wife, each holding a child by the hand, were not so fortunate, for their house near the Lehigh bridge was swept away. The floating house struck a tree and while the parents were caught and saved by its branches, both children perished in the angry flood. A former sailor with a canoe rescued this Tippey and his wife.[1]

The writer can not prove that this Tippey is the Uriah Tippie of our story, but it may readily be conjectured as he lived in Northampton areas drained by the Lehigh (Allentown, Allen twp.), but so did other Tippies - Johannes, George Adam, Philip and Michel, to name four.

At any rate, according to one family compiler, Uriah Tippie and his wife Sarah Ann are said to have had another child born in 1786 (propitiously named "Flood") while they still lived in Northampton County, but he too died young.[2]

It is not known when Uriah and family left Northampton County. But between 1787 and 1790, he had 3 more children, all born in Pa. John (called John, Sr. for clarification in this writer's narrative) was born in 1787, and died in Kansas Territory in 1859; Susan who died in Athens County, Ohio on 28 Nov. 1867, and Henry, - one being born about the time Washington was elected President of the U.S. in 1789, with the other being born in 1790.[3]

In March 1790 Congress passed the Census Act. This first census enumerates Northampton Co., Pa. family heads bearing the family name as John Tiper or Teper (presumably the Johannes Tippe, German immigrant and father of Uriah as he did not die until 1796 here at Lehigh in this county) of Hamilton township; George Adam Tiper (Uriah's brother ?) of Heidelberg township; Philip Tippy or Teppy (also Uriah's brother ?) of Lehigh township; and a Michel Tiper (?) of Lowhill township. The whereabouts of Uriah Tippie and his family in 1790 is unknown by this writer.

But according to Athens County Clerk Henry Barlett's affadavit of 1835 based on Uriah's personal testimony, Uriah Tippie's frequent migrations can be ascertained from about 1794. For 3 years (1794-1796) he lived in *McGiesport (in Northampton Co. ?). Then in 1797 Uriah moved to Tulpahockan for about a year.[4] Then for 6 years (1797-1802) he located in western Pa. in Allegheny County at Greensburg, not far from Pittsburg. Presumably he was engaged in his trade as shoemaker, although the census at this time does not designate occupation as did those of later years.

* Probably "McKeesport."

[3] It is interesting to observe here that both John Sr. (d. 1859) and his brother Michael (d. 1881) spent their last years in Kansas - both as territory and newly formed state. Some of that name died because of the rigors of that wild frontier, some died in the great Civil War, and some died by the rope.

According to the Allegheny County federal census of 1800 then, Uriah was listed as a family head in Versailles township with his wife. They had 3 sons under 16 years of age [John Sr., Henry, and Michael], and one daughter between 10 and 16 years of age. This could be Susan who is alleged to have been born about 1789 or 1790.

URIAH TIPPIE: THE OHIO FRONTIERSMAN

Uriah Tippie's wife and the mother of his children died in 1803, whether in Versailles township of Allegheny County, Pa., or in Athens Co., Ohio is uncertain at this writing. If the former, perhaps it was this death which sent Uriah to a new frontier with his children about the turn of the century at a time when Thomas Jefferson was President, and Aaron Burr, a man Jefferson held in low esteem, was the Vice-President.

Uriah Tippie is the first of this surname to migrate to the unbroken wilderness of Ohio. He did not settle at Marietta, the first permanent settlement on the Ohio, for in 1797 a large canoe of New Englanders from this place had paddled up the river to the Great Hockhocking River, and attracted to a likely spot on a high bluff, founded "Middletown" which soon was renamed Athens. The county and township by that name was organized in 1805, two years after Ohio became a state; the territory before that date was called Washington County. It is here at Middletown that Uriah Tippie appears in the first state census of 1803. He therefore must have been a settler in this area before statehood.

Few pioneers arrived earlier, but among these was Benjamin Brown, a captain in the Revolutionary War twice wounded at the battle of Bunker Hill. He arrived by canoe in 1799 when the settlement was only a cluster of log cabins. He farmed in Ames township, and his eldest son raised a crop of hemp which he carried by canoe to sell downriver at Marietta. Brown had at least two other sons both known by Uriah - one was John the tavern keeper and mayor of Athens for many years, and the other A.G. Brown, publisher of the town's first newspaper, lawyer and judge. It is this A. G. Brown whom Uriah hired in 1835 and whom his widow Susanna hired in 1855 to process the papers necessary to receive Tippie's military pension. Athens' tavernkeeper for 45 years, Gen. John Brown was 68 in 1835 when he testified that he had been well acquainted with Uriah Tippie and Susannah since their marriage in 1805.[1]

Henry Bartlett arrived even earlier - in 1797. He taught school for a few years and then began his long career as County Clerk in 1805. It is he as County Clerk in 1835 who, in a sworn statement, penned the most lucid account of Uriah Tippie's Revolutionary War service to be found in his file #W25487. (The writer has transcribed the text in full and has included the same in the Appendix of this work.)

[1] These biographical notes have been obtained from Walker's Hist. of Athens County, Ohio, pp. 256-257, 262-264 and 287.

Dr. Perkins arrived in 1800 and began practicing medicine for the wilderness folk from his log cabin with its one window and one door. He was also the village postmaster for many years. Some of his descendants were later to go to Kansas, as indeed many of Uriah Tippie's were to do also. Bartlett and Perkins were the first to build brick houses, behind the University green.

Hull Foster came to Athens the year Uriah Tippie remarried in 1805, to pursue his trade as shoemaker. Uriah was also a shoemaker but it is not known if they were competitors to shod the townspeople. Ultimately Foster put a traveling shoe kit on his back and tramped to Kentucky and Tennessee as an itinerant cordswainer (shoe maker) only to return some time later to Athens where for the next 50 years he made shoes - for 5 generations in one family!

The usual way into Ohio country in those days was by flatboat floated down the Monogahela from McKeesport or Pittsburg, down the Ohio to Marietta, and then poled up the smaller streams to some promising place in these teeming forests. Uriah Tippie and family must have come this way, although it is possible they could have come part way by light wagon as did the Perkins' family.

The Tippies eventually looked to the land for a livelihood.. First they had to clear the land of giant sycamore and hickory and ash by ax and oxen to make way for corn hills to be planted among the stumps. From these felled timbers, they, together with their neighbors, would have erected the typical 14 foot square wilderness cabin. It would be simply furnished with 3-legged stools about a puncheon table. A fireplace occupied the end for cooking supper mush in an iron pot. Candle dips and a single opening in the cabin wall covered with oiled paper would brighten the dim interior. The floor would be dirt, covered with a bearskin or two. Clothing was homespun butternut pantaloons for the men; women wore linsey-woolsey gowns. Forks were scarce; the Tippie children would spear their meat from the coals with sharpened sassafras sticks. Salt was also scarce; each $6 bushel of it had to be brought in by pack horse, and every grain was precious.

Children had to work hard with timber to cut, fields to plow and harvest, and grain to grind in a stump mortar. Table meat was wild flesh. Many children had no time for school, even when this institution came to the settlement. Uriah Tippie never learned to read or write in his Pennsylvania frontier any more than his oldest son, John Sr., had on the Ohio frontier.[1]

Those early days were not without other hardships. In 1803 unseasonable warmth set those early settlers' peach trees blooming in February, and the winter remained like summer until May 6. On that day peaches and apples the size of large grapes froze as a great snow fell. There was no dried fruit for winter's store that year. In other years wild strawberries grew in such profusion that they reddened horses' legs with their fragrant juice.

Great drought and famine hit Athens County in 1805, and the pioneer found it even more necessary to rely on wild game for food, especially vension, raccoon and bear meat. One Tippie neighbor reportedly killed 103 grey squirrels in one day. Wild turkeys were trapped by scattering corn about. Two of the Tippie neighbors, both noted hunters, killed 65 bears in one season. These bearskins were hauled down to the Ohio River settlements and there traded for a barrel of whiskey, the first shipment of that commodity to be reported in Athens County. A little later Athens did very well thank you with its own whiskey stills, jugging surplus rye and corn as these became available. One local Baptist preacher, who ministered to his wilderness constitutency only on every third Saturday, received his salary in whiskey - three barrels annually!

Not all of the bearskins went for booze; some went for books. As agents of John Jacob Astor's fur company paid ready cash for furs and skins, some enterprising AThens' citizens took a wagon load of bearskins and furs to Boston and bought 51 books for the first library in Ohio. It therefore became known as the "coonskin library" and sold shares at $2.50 in later years to subscribers to continue its support. One of these subscribers was Uriah Tippie's youngest son Michael.[1] One of the later acquisitions was a popular work about Uriah's old general of the battle of Trenton, the Life of Washington (which Uriah could not read, of course). Whether son Michael utilized any of the works from this library is not known, but he did become a physician on another frontier out West,-at Mapleton, Kansas.[2]

Fearsome creatures lurked in the dark Ohio woods; even the town was heavily wooded. Three hundred pound bears slaughtered pigs never plentiful enough to supply pioneer tables with sufficient bacon. Ferocious panthers and black timber wolves were especially troublesome to settlers with sheep, and that was most, for wool was needed for clothing. As early as 1805 a bounty of $4 was paid to the brave hunter who brought in these scalps. Least to be feared on this frontier were deer and foxes, and the occasional buffalo that roamed through.

It was in 1805 that Uriah Tippie remarried. He was 46 and Susan Chadwick (b. 1781) was 24 when they were married 31 January (issue of this union may have been two sons[3]) in Athens County by Justice of the Peace William Harper[4] who was also owner of the ferry on the Hockhocking. He charged a footman 3¢, a man on horseback 10¢, and a loaded wagon and team 50¢ for the use of his ferry. Crossing the river by ferry (it would be nearly 30 years before it was spanned by a bridge) was costly, considering the perdiem wage for a man was 31 1/4 cents. One pound of coffee came to 50¢, as did a quarter pound of tea, so of course most pioneers lived on corn pone and wild meat. Uriah the farmer and shoemaker may have fared somewhat better, but nevertheless was described by Attorney A. G. Brown in 1835 as a "poor man".

1805 was also the year the ambitious dapper Aaron Burr, having just slain Alexander Hamilton in a duel a few months earlier, came riding into Athens, Ohio. Grandson of Jonathan Edwards, whose stirring sermons initiated the First Great Awakening in the New England colonies, he was nothing like his worthy grandsire. At this very time Burr was vigorously though secretly pursuing his treasonous scheme to "effect a separation of the West part (including Ohio) from the United States" in order to acquire a western empire for himself. Just what he said to the men of Athens remains unknown, but soon after this Burr fled in disguise into the wilderness in an attempt to reach Spanish territory. Arrested and indicted for treason in 1807, he was acquitted; then he exiled himself to Europe.

In 1806 in the first election held on the first April Monday at the house of John Havner, Uriah Tippie was elected as one of 6 supervisors of Athens township.[1] That was also the year that Methodism's famous circuit rider, Peter Cartwright, came through the county preaching and forming religious societies. Uriah Tippie now had opportunity to become "hopefully pious", if not already persuaded in that direction. His parents had been Lutheran, not Methodist, however.

In 1806 Uriah Tippie sat on the grand jury in the April term.[2] In 1810 he appears on the tax rolls as a taxpayer, along with his son John, Sr. And that same year the famous Methodist Bishop Asbury came to Athens to hold a four day campmeeting in a great grove of trees. While it is not known how Uriah Tippie reacted to the great religious revivals of his times, he must have been in attendance, for thousands came from far and near to the typical campmeeting. Families came in wagons and set up their tents for this most special spiritual-social feast. As many as 7 preachers would preach at once to enormous congregations in the woods, and soon hundreds would be prostrate on the ground, praying to their Lord. Excessive emotion such as barking and jerking attended many of the hell-fire sermons. These revivals on the frontier are known in history as the Second Awakening. But lives were changed, for a season at least. Uriah Tippie, who was "hopefully pious" as the ministers said of him in 1835,[3] must certainly have heard the blast of the trumpets for sunrise prayers, if not the voice of the Lord's prophets crying in this wilderness.

[3] According to War File #W25487, the following ministers who gave the County Clerk sworn statements regarding Uriah Tippie's honesty and integrity were Dr. Asa Stearns, and Robert G. Wilson, D.D., President of the University of Athens.

In addition to these stirring summer exercises, other entertainment the pioneer held dear to his heart included the corn huskings, the quilting bees, the log rollings, and, of course, the horse racing. Surplus grain was distilled and jugged, and if not drunk on the spot, sold for cash. Plenty of it must have found its way down local throats by 1829 for in that year one Rev. R. G. Wilson, former trustee of the University, became the first president of the temperance society in Athens to cry out against its abuse.[1]

This then was the pioneer life of the old soldier Uriah Tippie and his sons and his grandsons. This was the life that John Tippie Sr. knew well as a youth in Ohio, and he would know it again as an aging farmer on a new frontier - in Kansas Territory.

We know that according to census records that the Tippies were all farmers, with son John Sr. engaged in mining as well. There is evidence that his son John Jr. was also interested in locating mineral and he lost his farm as a result of his searching for it. Uriah himself, sire and grandsire, was a shoemaker, according to the DAR roster I; perhaps this trade supplemented his meager military pension of only $20 per annum.

URIAH TIPPIE: THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR PENSIONER

The official roster of the DAR says that Uriah Tippie (Tippey) of Athens County, Ohio, was age 82 when he received a military pension in 1810. This is incorrect. Uriah was 82 in 1840 when the pensioner rolls were published.[1]

According to Uriah's Revolutionary War File #W25487, he first received his military pension 4 March, 1831, and that in the amount of $20 per annum. Apparently at a later date he had some difficulty in retaining the pension rightfully his, as some of those first affadavits were rejected as "his claims for service under his enlistment cannot be allowed without direct proof being exhibited". Uriah then engaged the services of a lawyer to argue in his behalf— the Athens attorney, A. G. Brown, himself the son of a Revolutionary War captain.

Uriah, age 76, applied for the pension 21 February, 1835; it was necessary to accompany the application with sworn statements from local acquaintenances. Several of these swore in 1836 that they had known Uriah Tippie for 20 or 30 years in Ohio, and that he had often talked about his being a soldier of the Revolutionary War. Among these were neighbors Nathan Woodberry and Christopher Wolf, and the Rev. Asa Stearns.[2]

One who testified in a sworn statement regarding Uriah's service in that war was the Rev. Robert G. Wilson, D.D., then President of Ohio University and Professor of Moral Sciences and Belles Lettres.[3] He said that he knew Uriah well for some 6 or 8 years, and knew him as a very honest simple-hearted man, and "hopefully pious". Rev. Wilson placed reliance on Uriah as a man of truth, and believed his report that he was indeed a soldier of the Revolution. The reader might well wonder why Dr. Wilson knew old Uriah so well at this time. Since Uriah was a shoemaker, perhaps the old soldier had made shoes for the university president.

In a letter dated April 11, 1835, Attorney A. G. Brown summitted papers for Uriah's pension which continued to be unduly delayed. In this letter Brown calls Uriah an "innocent and honest old man". In a followup letter of June 6, 1835, Brown admitted that in Uriah Tippie's traditionary testimony there "may be some slight inaccuracies from lapse of memory and his total ignorance of letters" but that he (Brown) had "no doubt of the veracity of Mr. Tippie".

[3] Walker, Hist. of Athens, p. 349.

In his letter of July 4, 1835, Attorney A.G. Brown argued that no witnesses in this part of the country, at least, can be found to prove his client's statements, adding "Mr. Tippie is entirely illiterate but of excellent character, honest, a man of integrity and veracity. His memory is tolerably good for a man his age. There is nothing positively contradictory . . . ." Furthermore, Brown believed Uriah a worthy applicant . . . "and I deem him worthy".

Of course, we know today that documentary proof later surfaced as records emerged from dusty depositories in Pennsylvania. The reader may refer to some of the Northampton County, Pa. muster rolls containing Uriah Tippie's name photostated for the appendix in this work.

This last correspondence of A. G. Brown on Uriah's behalf must have brought about the desired results, for the record shows that the pension in question was reinstated July 11, 1835, and was, in fact, made retroactive to the time of its suspension for a whopping sum in those days of $90. Thereafter the pension was to be paid in semi-annual installments of $10 each. The reader may refer to the photostat copy on page __ in the Appendix of this work.

WIDOW SUSANNAH TIPPIE AND HER PENSION

Widow Susannah Tippie, age 74, appeared in person Jan. 26, 1855 as a resident of Athens Township, Athens Co., as she had never before made application for Uriah's military pension (he had died in 1848). [1] She signed the statement with her mark. Apparently in Sept. of 1855 she received that pension in the amount of $20 per annum which was made retroactive to February, 1853.

In November 1855, Susannah had her attorney, A. G. Brown, to petition for a pension increase. In his letter Brown included some certified information obtained from the Secretary of State of Pa., verifying Uriah Tippie's traditionary testimony that he had indeed served the U.S. for 3 tours of 2 months each, besides the 7 months in Capt. Van Etten's company. These "dilapidated papers and defaced rolls" [Brown's own description] were not available in 1835 in Uriah's day. One bit of interesting information in these old documents contains the fact that in a petition of 1779, Uriah Tippie apparently joined a remonstrance with others against the conduct of a Col. Witzie of the Northampton 4th Battalion.[2] The "conduct" is not identified.

[1] Rev. War File #W25487

[2] Ibid., p. 0463.

Attorney Brown also handled the matter of a bounty claim for Susannah Tippie. The last bounty land act was in 1855, providing a bounty of 160 acres for those soldiers who had served at least 14 days or fought in a battle of the Revolution; these warrants could be inherited. In March 15, 1855, Susannah applied for her deceased husband's claim.[1] Brown's letter of June 18 notes her suspension [denial] of her claim for bounty land but argues that Uriah's pension of 1833 was sufficient to establish that claim. Again on August 30 Brown establishes her right to a warrant for 160 acres, which he now identifies as No. 6896 Abstract.

The selected material in Uriah Tippie's file does not state whether his widow ever received the bounty land. Is it possible that she qualified for military bounty land and filed for the same in eastern Kansas in the late 1850's ? Records show that some Kansas land was claimed in this manner in that time period.

Perhaps she did, for it is known that the old soldier's widow resided in the home of John Tippie Sr., after old Uriah's death according to the Ohio census of 1850. And it is known that John Sr. and some of his family went to Linn County, Kansas in 1858, where John Sr., John Jr. and John Sr.'s wife Elizabeth all died the following year. If she were still living, Susannah could have accompanied her step-son on this trip. It is known that an elderly "Charlotte" Tippie was buried in the spring of 1860 in the same burial ground as the aforementioned three. Her age and place of birth in the records are exactly right for "Susannah" Tippie; could this be the old soldier's widow?

URIAH TIPPIE: DEATH AND BURIAL

The old soldier lay down his scythe and shoelast for the final time in the summer of 1848, age 89. By now his sons and numerous grandsons were well established as farmers in various townships in Athens County. Son Henry was 58 and the father and provider of 8 children. Son John Sr. was 61 with at least 5 grown children, the third of which was John, Jr.

It appears that this John Jr. had bought 254 acres of farmland in section 34 of Ames township in 1835 to support his numerous children. Here then at Ames the old Revolutionary war soldier Uriah died, and was laid to rest in the cemetery his grandson John Jr. established just 100' south of his house. After many years Hixon heirs (who had acquired the property in 1857) in plowing across the old abandoned cemetery - called locally the Tippie Cemetery in Ames - unearthed a small marble footstone with the initials - U. T. This is thought to be the footstone of the old soldier, Uriah Tippie.[2]

JOHN TIPPIE OF ATHENS COUNTY, OHIO

John Tippie (Sr.), oldest son of the old Revolutionary soldier Uriah and wife Sarah Ann, was born in 1787 in Allegheny County, Pa. His siblings included Susan (b. 1789, Pa.; d. 28 Nov., 1867); Henry (b. 1790, Pa.) who married Mary Harrold (b. 1800, Va.) and had James, Daniel, Mary A., David, Harrison, Mary J., Sarah A., and Tolbert; Michael (b. 9 Feb., 1796) who married Elizabeth Hewitt (b. N.Y., d. 1870 in Ks.) and had 13 children - Louise, Nancy Ann, William Orlando, Elizabeth, Lord Mortimer, Orrin A.L., Raymond, Eveline, Jane, Reason Anson, Michael Jr., Harriett, Adolphus Camp, all born 1816-1843 (?). For details, please see the family charts in the Appendix in this work.

About 1858, John Tippie Sr. and his brother Michael showed up in eastern Kansas and both died there, 1859 and 1881 respectively.

The John Tippie Sr. of this sketch was married to Elizabeth "Betsey" Lyons (?) Sept. 18, 1814, and had Joseph, Rhoda, John Jr., Elizabeth, and Reason - all born in Athens County, Ohio between ? 1809-1816.

We have already seen that John Sr. came to Ohio Territory with his father Uriah Tippie before 1803, and that the name was variously spelled, but appears to be consistently "Tippie" from 1850 on.

Both John Sr. and his father Uriah appear on the tax rolls in 1810 in Ohio's Washington County (no township listed) from which Athens was ultimately carved. John Sr. was cited as family head with children in the Ohio census of both 1820 and 1830. In 1840 he was identified as a miner by occupation in Athens township of Athens County. The mineral may have been coal, lead, or even pottery clay for the Hockhocking kilns were active even then.

In 1850 John Sr. was 63 and a farmer residing in Ames township of Athens County, living here with his wife Elizabeth 65, and two grandchildren - Rebecca 13 and Hathaway 4, apparently the children of John Jr. who also lived in Ames township. Also resident in John Sr.'s household was 68 year old Susan Tippie (b. Dela. ?), the widow of the old soldier Uriah who had died in 1848.

The same Ames census shows that two farms over lived farmer John Tippie Jr., 39, and his wife Margaret 24. In residence with them were 9 children: - Ezra 15, Margaret 13, Lucilla 9, Granville 7, Joseph 6, Phillip 4, Hathaway 2, Robert one month, and Sylvia Lydia. Other children would be born to them before they left this farm for one in Kansas; these were John, born 1852, and Phebe, born 1855. And the last would be born in Kansas Territory itself, Charles in 1859, or perhaps posthumously in early 1860.

We have already seen that John Jr. had bought 254 acres of farmland in section 34 of Ames township in 1835 to support this numerous brood. In 1857 he deeded these same acres to Peter Hixon in repayment of a loan. It appears John Jr., a Spiritualist, held seances in an octagonal building erected near his farmhome and received messages from spirits who told him where to dig for lead, for which dubuious quests he borrowed a goodly sum from Hixon.[1] After the mining fiascos, John Jr. forfeited the farm, and left for Kansas Territory where he died of typhoid in 1859, and was buried in Graveyard Mound near Brooklin, a little settlement in Linn County.

THE TIPPIES IN SOUTHEASTERN KANSAS

One may speculate why the Tippies chose to locate in Linn County, Kansas only a short while after the infamous Marais des Cygnes massacre of 1858 by the ruthless Hamelton band. They had to have known about it as the bloody incident made the newspapers across the nation. What did they come seeking? Cheap land? The year before John Jr. had lost his Ohio farm in repayment of a loan.

Or was it mineral? The seances in the octagonal building in Athens County had failed him in his prospecting efforts in both Ames and Waterloo townships. But lead had been rediscovered in Linn County, Kansas in the late 1850's, although the French had earlier mined a little ore in 1825. However, the first real producing lead mine was not to open in Linn until 1871, a dozen years hence.

Why into this hotbed of border conflict, for by now much of eastern Kansas had somehow accommodated its political troubles if not actually triumphing over them, but not so in Linn and the next county to the south - Bourbon, especially at the old military town of Fort Scott. Here guerrillas continued to wage war over the slavery issue, specifically whether Kansas would come into the Union slave, or free?

Irregular guerrilla warfare conducted by one armed band or another had never ceased in these counties, although many of the raiders on both sides seemed to be more interested in looting and claim-jumping than in ideologies. Linn men earned the name "Redlegs" for they were said to have waded kneedeep in the blood of bushwhackers. Plundering their goods came to be known as "jayhawking." Capt. James Montgomery of Mound City, and Jayhawker Dr. C.R. Jennison led Free-Staters against Pro-slavers, some of whom periodically rode in from across the Missouri line to pillage and burn and kill those holding different political beliefs than theirs on the slavery question. In retaliation of these Missouri raiders, Old John Brown of Ossawatomie, but then based in Linn, made his first and only raid into Missouri to "liberate" eleven slaves on Dec., 20, 1858. One year later he would be hanged in Virginia for leading the takeover of the federal arsenal at Harper's Ferry in an attempt to instigate a slave rebellion.

[1] See the Appendix for the Wm.E.Peters Papers, a submission to the Athens County Historical Society for the "Tippie" entry.

Elections were frequent to try to settle the question at the ballot box. Nor were early attempts at this very successful. It is known that John Tippie Sr., at least, registered as a voter for these elections. (It is not known how he voted.) For in July, 1859 in the registry of qualified voters for Linn County, Scott Township, appears the name of John Tippie - the identical Tippie of Athens County, Ohio. His date of settlement in this township is entered as 10 Sept., 1858. Now 72, his family consisted of himself, his wife Elizabeth, and one other - a minor - possibly a grandchild, for also at this time or soon after arrived John Jr. with his large family. Apparently John Jr. settled just over the county line, into Lykens (now Miami) County, scarcely a half dozen miles from Brooklin where John Sr. had settled. Within 90 days of this registry, John Jr. and his old father and mother - all three - would be buried near Brooklin at Graveyard Mound (referred to locally as Indian Mound).

Records [1] show that John Tippie Sr. died 20 July, 1859, and his wife Elizabeth died the very next month, August, 1859, both of "old age". And the month following, 17 Sept., 1859, their son John Jr., now of Paris township in Linn County, husband of Ann Margaret, died of typhoid, age 47. Also buried here is Sylvia Lydia, daughter of John Jr., of lung fever; she was 8.

Interestingly enough an elderly Charlotte Tippie was buried at this same Graveyard Mound the following spring, April, 1860. She was 80, and had been born in Pennsylvania. Is it possible that this "Charlotte" was the old soldier Uriah Tippie's widow (Susannah Chadwicke), for the age is right as is the place of birth, and she is known to have resided in the home of John Sr. after old Uriah's death, according to the Ohio census of 1850.

TIPPIES IN LINN AND BOURBON COUNTIES
during
THE CIVIL WAR PERIOD
1860 - 1865

A number of Tippies are entered in the Kansas census for both Linn and Bourbon counties in 1860. Those thought to be related to old Uriah Tippie, the Revolutionary War soldier, include a son - Dr. Michael Tippie of Bourbon County.

Near the Bourbon-Linn county line was a village called Mapleton. Here settled Michael Tippie (b. 9 Feb., 1796 in Allegheny, Pa.) and his wife Elizabeth (Hewitt). They were the parents of 13 children as we have already seen, but only two appear in the Mapleton home of Dr. Michael whose occupation in 1860 was listed as physician; these were Michael 22, a cooper by trade, and Adolphus 17. Next door lived another son - farmer Reason Tippie 24, his wife Josephine 19 (Josepha Hyde), and their 5 months old daughter Anna R. The doctor was 64, and his wife Elizabeth 63.

That same year in nearby Linn County appears the names of John Tippie Sr.'s (son of Uriah Tippie, the old soldier) kin:

1. his daughter-in-law Ann Margaret Tippie (34 year old widow of John Jr) in Paris township, and her 4 children - Robert 12, John 8, Phebe 5, and Charles nine months; only Charles had been born in Kansas.

2. his grandson Ezra Tippie 25, also of Paris township, with his wife Kate 19, and two of his brothers - H. 14, and Philip 17.

3. possibly his daughter Rhoda Ward of Ohio (52, and in Scott township with the P.O. at Brooklin; widow (?) of Abraham Ward whom she married 24 March, 1825 in Athens County, Ohio). In residence here with Rhoda Ward are two Tippies - Suertha 32, and Joseph 17 (presumably the son of John Jr.).

Strangely enough, 4 pages from this last entry is the writer's own ancestor - RHODES TIPTON, 51, and a farmer at Brooklin from 1856, and he too formerly of Athens County, Ohio. For a lengthy period of time, this researcher assumed that RHODES and RHODA were both children of John Tippie Sr. (perhaps, even twins) due to RHODES' proximity to the Tippie family in both Ohio and Kansas at the same time. (RHODES TIPTON lived in Athens township of Athens County, Ohio, in 1840, the same as John Tippie Sr. whose family name that census was transcribed as both Tippy and Tipton in 1840; RHODES TIPTON moved to Iowa Territory about 1842 where he remained until 1854 when he migrated to Kansas Territory). But arduous research has yet to prove direct lineage; perhaps there is no connection at all. In the absence of concrete evidence then, the writer has researched, compiled and written a long and separate narrative on her ancestor -RHODES TIPTON - copies of which may be found at the Kansas State Historical Library in Topeka, and also at the Linn County Historical Society, Pleasanton, Kansas. *An additional copy may be found in the LDS archives, Salt Lake City, Utah.; also with the Historical Society in Athens County, Ohio.

Curiously enough the firstborn son of John Tippie Jr. (the Spiritualist) mentioned above -(Ezra the farmer of Paris township)- became a medium for a Paris eccentric at a windowless "round house" with a conical roof erected on a hill north of Brooklin. It was about 1870 that a "Father King" allegedly of the spirit world who frequently left the Celestial Regions to communicate with mere mortals such as Linn County Clerk,(but some notables came under assumed names to receive messages). These came after a crashing crescendo from musical instruments suspended from the ceiling in the perfectly blackened round room. Ezra Tippie who lived nearby acted as interpreter for Father King whose voice in the darkness was readily identified by all who knew him. Admitting to the mystery of it all, Tippie took no fees for his services. It appears that the seances were less about mineral lodes than about religious matters - King revealing, for instance, that he himself had helped to roll away the stone from Christ's sepulchre!

Although W. A. Mitchell in his History of Linn County, Kansas cites the above account, he describes Ezra Tippie as a man of easy-going habits with a mild and inoffensive nature. According to other sources, John Tippie Jr.'s younger sons had no such reputation, for it appears that most were considered "hard characters".[1] Joseph D., Granville C., Hathaway D. and Philip T. all served in one or another of Kansas Cavalry units for the Union; and there is some evidence that Ezra D. served in Zeb Leasure's outfit. Leasure was a neighbor who became a trusted friend of both ardent Free Stater Capt. James Montgomery and staunch abolitionist Old John Brown. He and his brothers served in the Second Kansas Cavalry, Co. I.

Six weeks after taking the oath of Presidential office, Abraham Lincoln called for 75,000 volunteers to put down the insurrection begun at Charleston. By the time the four year conflict to save the Union ended, 600,000 soldiers from both sides would be dead. Slavery would be dead, too. The South was left to smoulder in desolation. The United States of America was indeed indissoluble; the Union was preserved.

From its relatively small population, Kansas contributed over 20,000 troops to the Union effort. Military operations in Kansas were largely guerrilla in nature - Kansas versus Missouri. Jim Lane sacked and burned and killed in Missouri; Quantrill did the same in Kansas. The very old and very young along these borders took refuge in cornfields to protect their lives from bushwhackers.

It is hardly surprising to learn that Linn County organized the first militia in the state, both the first and Second Kansas Regiments in June. That summer of 1861 these regiments engaged in battles and skirmishes along the border. And in some of these a psychotic killer named Quantrill met kindred spirits in the persons of Frank James and Cole Younger (son of pro-slavery delegate of Linn County - Henry Younger).

Then there was the Battle of Wilson's Creek, Mo., followed by one at Drywood, Ks., the Union men being led here by Col. James Montgomery (friend of Old John Brown). Then Humboldt, Ks. was sacked and burned. A few days after the siege of Lexington (Mo.), Gardner, Ks. on the old Santa Fe trail was sacked. Again in Oct., Linn County settlers were driven from the Mine Creek area. The year 1861 ended in a rebel raid on Potosi in Linn County, a short distance from the Tippie houses. In this raid of Dec. 11, a neighbor Joseph Seright was shot and killed by bushwhackers near Potosi. Fully dressed as ague had driven him in from the damp prairie grass, he was asleep in his own house. Claiming to be Texas Rangers, the men who murdered Seright pillaged his house.

Thus Civil War skirmishes began early in Kansas, which were in reality only the continuation of the bloody conflict of the six long years before Mr. Lincoln's war began. This border guerrilla action in Kansas is said to be the prelude to the Civil War.

It appears that the Tippie men served in both kinds of warfare. Both Ezra Tippie and Granville Tippie served in the Second Kansas Cavalry, in Company I led by their neighbor Capt. Zeb Leasure who led his troops dressed in his wedding suit. And their two brothers - Hathaway D. Tippie and Philip S. Tippie enlisted in the same outfit on 14 September, 1862; both mustered in on 13 August, 1863 and were reassigned in the newly created Company C on 18 March, 1865; both were mustered out 22 June, 1865 at Fort Gibson. All but Ezra appear in Co. I of the Sixth Kansas Cavalry, as privates.[1]

Dr. Michael Tippie (of Mapleton, Bourbon County) had two sons in the Fourth Kansas Volunteers, in Company D. These were First Lt. Michael, Jr. and Corporal Reason Tippie. The Carol Milam papers show that another son - Orrin A.L. Tippie (b. 1829 and married to Olive S. Orton) died 19 May, 1863, at the Battle of Vicksburg.

Gen. Price's Raid of 1864 in Linn County, Kansas:

The most significant Civil War battle near the Tippie homes is called Price's Raid.

Having fought several battles in Missouri (Pilot Knob, Little Blue, Lexington) the Kansas regiments, including the Fifteenth, had General Sterling Price in rout down the Missouri state line. His strategy was to reach Fort Scott, Kansas, a federal depot of military supplies and rations.

Ks. 6th Cav.-Co. I- part of Blunt's Union Army of 8000, fought in Ark. 1862 against Conf. whose riders incl. Quantrill's bushwhackers, incl. Frank & Jesse James. Ref: Monaghan, Civil War on the Western Border, 258-271. 2500 died of shell & exposure; as hogs devoured the fallen, Rebs picked up guns rather than battlefield wounded.

Only the year before, the Fifteenth Kansas had left the Missouri border a land of desolation in consequence of Quantrill's raid in Kansas. Only chimneys remained of houses that once stood here. Fences were long ugly ropes of gray ash. There were no crops in field or crib to forage.

Joseph D. Tippie, son of John Tippie Jr. of Paris township, rode with the Fifteenth, in Co. M. His officer was none other than the cruel oppressor Dr. C. R. Jennison of Mound City, the original jayhawker of guerrilla warfare in Linn County, who in November 1860 (before the great Civil War even started) led nine Free-Staters in the hanging of pro-slavers Samuel Scott (a Tippie neighbor) and Russel Hinds, and made an attempt to hang Garret. This same Jennison, now Colonel, continued to jayhawk freely during the Civil War, and was finally forced to resign from the Union Cavalry in 1862 for plundering livestock.

Joseph D. Tippie was still in the Fifteenth Kansas when it routed Price. Price's army of 12,000 - 15,000 was hungry as were the 2000 - 3000 additional bushwhackers following his rout. The rebel army crossed into a more fruitful Kansas near Trading Post, where several aged and unarmed men were murdered as before. (The Hamelton massacre of 1858). Among them were 56 year old Samuel A. Long, a 60 year old preacher named Richard B. Vernon, and old John Miller 65; many more unarmed citizens were shot at.

The Secesh army went into encampment here, and foraging the countryside consumed every vestige of food in a six mile wide swath, which included Paris township. Nearly every house was pillaged or fired. Men drove livestock into the timber in the vain hope of saving some from the soldiers. Women were forced to cook from the poor supply in their own cupboards. One Secesh shot a horse so that it fell in the spring thus deliberately fouling the water for local use.

Even Quakers took up arms against Old Pap Price in Linn County.

Union forces numbering 2500 engaged the Secesh near Mound City, eleven miles west of Trading Post. The battle began in the dark and in the rain. Shell screamed overhead; fired hay ricks blazed in the night. Rebel stragglers were caught and hanged in retaliation for pillaging and murdering defenseless old men.

The major stand took place on the prairie near timbered Mine Creek. When it was over the Union had lost 150, and the rebels 200. It was a 16 year old boy who captured two of Price's generals - Marmaduke and Cabell. Almost every house in the hamlet became a hospital for the wounded on both sides.

For days afterward, Linn County residents buried the dead in a field by Mine Creek. The Secesh had fired the grass to char their dead, and fired the brush to char their wounded who had dragged themselves there for protection under the turning leaves of October. Thus ended the Civil War and the border raids in Kansas.

The Aftermath of the War:

Joseph D. Tippie had joined Company M of the Fifteenth Kansas, enlisting 8 September, 1863. He mustered out on 19 October, 1865. Having been influenced by guerrilla-hardened Dr. C. R. Jennison of Mound City, the Redlegs' chieftain and finally Union officer, Joseph D. Tippie and his brother Granville S. Tippie met their fate at the end of a rope only six months after the mustering out.

There is no doubt as to the place - at a little crossroads village named Monmouth in Crawford County, about 70 miles south of their home in Linn County. According to one set of family records, it was Joseph (Joe) and Granville (Sam) who "robbed livestock and when caught were hung". Granville left a widow Malinda Sheek and an infant son George E. Joseph left a widow Elizabeth Ward and an infant daughter Emma E. to mourn their sudden end on 29 April, 1866.[1] According to one source, a third brother was wounded in the shootout before the lynchings but made it into Missouri before dying.

The most detailed account appears in the History of Crawford County, which reports verbatim the Cherokee Sentinel editor J. F. Price's own story: It appears that the Tippie boys of Linn County (who were considered "hard characters" and had been accused of robbing their uncle of several thousand dollars earlier) approached Ralph Warner who owned a large herd of cattle near Monmouth about buying those cattle, and made their purchase of said stock amounting to several thousand dollars.

Fearing the new cattle owners would rob him of the money he made in the transaction, Warner called neighbors to his house for protection. Two Tippies showed up at Warner's and shot and killed his brother-in-law; these escaped in the darkness. A posse was quickly raised to apprehend the other Tippies driving their herd toward Fort Scott and arrested them as accomplices, as no trace of the real murderers could be found in the driving rain. Standing watch with Winchesters lest their fellow robbers try to liberate them, local men called for a trial on the spot. So Joe and Sam Tippie were tried; nearly every man favored hanging, and thus they were. In the timber. And they were buried under the hanging tree. This is the beginning of the Monmouth cemetery.

Afterwards the cattle were turned over to the uncle who had been robbed of the purchase money in the first place.[2] This uncle may well have been Dr. Michael Tippie Sr., the subscriber to the coonskin library in Athens County, Ohio, who had moved to Mapleton, Bourbon County, Kansas about 1860 as we have already seen. Actually he would be the Tippie boys' great-uncle as he was the younger brother of their miner grandfather John Tippie Sr. (dead since 1859 of old age and buried near Brooklin, Linn County, Kansas.

The Kansas Historical Quarterly in Yost's "Lynchings in Kansas" identifies the Tippies as "Joe and Sam"; the reason given for their lynching was "murder". See Volume 2, page 186.

Conclusion:

This researcher has purposely cited incidents of violence in Linn County to set the stage for the Tippie hangings. As boys Joe and Sam had seen pillaging and burning of homes by bushwhackers, probably had been hungry because bread had been snatched from their mouths by raiders. Settlers were scarcely able to till their fields for their constant interruptions. As men in the militia and Federal army they had done their share of foraging and plundering for the Union. When Lee surrendered to Grant at Appotmattox thus ending the Civil War, did these brothers know that the war had ended along the Kansas borders as well? In any event, they, like so many others, kept on doing what they had always done - seeking gain in nefarious ways.

It has been observed by the historians that nowhere on any Western frontier did unsettled conditions and violence last longer than a decade. Yet the same Missourians to bushwhack the abolitionists in eastern Kansas in the 1850's and continued to do so into the 1860's were the same ruffians to drive out the 1830's Mormons earlier in and around Independence; these too were abolitionists.

Was the slave question the real issue for violence in the border counties in both states? As a matter of record, most settlers in both places were too poor to own slaves - even one. There were few slaves in Linn County; and most slaves in Missouri were along the Missouri River, for here in these rich bottomlands grew hemp, a staple crop which necessitated slave labor in the difficult production of fiber for twine and bagging for bales for Southern cotton. It was believed that much of western Missouri's prosperity was based on this crop. In fact Pro-slavery bushwhackers identified themselves to Free State Kansans with a twig of hemp thrust in the coat buttonhole as a symbol of slave-owning society. Missourians believed that when and if slavery were abolished, hemp production would be destroyed and thus ruin the state's economy. So they felt they were fighting for economic survival as were the Kansans who were engaged in farming in the Yankee way, not the plantation way.

Or was poverty the excuse for violence on this frontier? Most were poor. Probably most settlers in Kansas Territory were not overly concerned in whether Kansas came into the Union as slave or free, but were rather primarily interested in cheap land for healthy corn for a cash crop, and a successful grub patch to nourish the body, and with hopes of eventually building the school and church to nourish the mind and soul. But some on both sides of the border found it easier and more exciting to accumulate material goods more quickly and with less toil by their plundering and raiding.

In any case, Independence and Westport, Missouri, outfitting posts adjacent to Kansas for crossing the great American Desert, long remained a lawless frontier, especially Platte and Jackson County from which originated the Younger gang and the James' boys. While these were notorious gangs, much local history and family lore all along the Missouri and Kansas border have their own stories to relate about those unfortunate youths uprooted emotionally and economically in those turbulent times of "border troubles".

To this troubled era belong Joe and Sam Tippie.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR FILE #W25487 of URIAH TIPPIE (TIPTON in some censuses, and in Revolutionary War Soldier and Pensioner, as shown by 1840 Ohio, Athens County. Born 16 July, 1759; died 27 July, 1848).

Gist transcribed by Gladys Dodd for this work, based on Uriah's "traditionary" testimony as sworn to Bartlett, County Clerk, and selected other documents from this file.

Uriah originated in Pa. His wife Susannah, age 74 in 1855, widow, received his $20 pension. He served as private in the Pa. Militia under Capt. Patterson for 6 mos. Susannah and Uriah married Jan. 31, 1805 in Washington Co., Ohio.

Uriah applied for pension at age 76 in 1835; claimed to have been born 16 July, 1759 at Monmouth C.H. in East Jersey. He entered service from Bucks Co. (township illegible), Pa. in 1776; entirely illiterate.

In 1777 Uriah moved with father's family to Allen township, Northampton Co. Pa., staying here till end of war when he moved to Mc-----port, same County, for 3 years, and then moved on to Tulpakockan, and then on to Greensburg, and 6 years later on to Athens County, Ohio.

Uriah volunteered in Capt. Nicky Patterson's company for 2 mos.- Aug. or Sept.- and marched to Newtown, Pa. to Yonjohouse 20 mi. from Phila. His company of 75 were quartered as guards of provisions until Oct-Nov; he was near sick of a fever. About Christmas he had a tour of duty with Capt. Patterson to the Delaware River to join General Washington's army and crossed over to Trenton and engaged in that battle. Then they went on to Bustellman until March 1; much mud here and then they returned home.

In the fall of 1777 he volunteered at Allen twp., Northampton Co., for a tour of 2 mos. under Capt. Fred Coons, and marched to Milkhouse Tavern. Then on to Germantown - but to no battle here- and on to Frankfort Bridge as guard company to prevent Tories from carrying provisions into Phila. to the British. Then he returned home about wintertime.

May 1778 Uriah enlisted for term of 7 mos. with Capt. Van Ettan of Minnisauks, Lt. Robert Fish, and Sgt. Hallett, and they marched to Easton after a few days up the Delaware River to a station commanded by Col. Jacob Stroud. Here he remained 5 mos. With officers' permission he returned home to assist his father, and got a substitute to served out the remainder of his term. He recalled the desertion of his drummer to the British, a boy named Joseph Patterson and son of his captain.

Uriah's total service (including 2 mos. for the substitute) equalled one year and one month. Enlisting Dec., 1776, he mustered in at Fort Penn; discharged Feb. or Mar. 1777.

Uriah's character was testified to by several witnesses including Rev. Asa Stearns, Rev. Shurtliff, and Rev. Dr. R.G. Wilson- as an honest, simplehearted man and hopefully pious, a man of truth, illiterate but intelligent with a good memory for his age.

The maiden name of his wife Susannah (whom he married in 1805 by a Justice of the Peace William Harper, Esq.) was Chadwick. Her pension was suspended 18 Je, 1855. Her right to est. 160A Warrant for land, and for increase of pension was supported by Atty. Brown.

Col. Joel Stroud marched Uriah's company up the Delaware into Indian country through pine swamps about 1 rod apart in case Indians ambushed them. Uriah's substitute was killed later, a man named John Couts, in an expedition against Indians; he was paid 50 chillings a month. Uriah was employed a wagoner to convey Gen. Sullivan's baggage from E ston to Wyo; his company scoured Indian country for 40-50 mi. in direction of Wyoming. He served Pa. militia 15 Je. 1780 to 15 Jan. 1781 - 7 mos. in 4th Batt. of Northampton Co; he was #29.

COUNTY CLERK HENRY BARTLETT'S SWORN STATEMENT REGARDING URIAH TIPPIE

This document from Rev. War File #W25487 has been transcribed verbatim by Gladys Dodd, researcher of this Tippie family account.

STATE OF OHIO. ATHENS COUNTY

On this 21st day of February in the year 1835 personally appeared in open court, before the Judges of the court of Common Pleas in and for said county now sitting,Uriah Tippie, a resident of Alexander Township in said County, in the 76th year of his age, who being first duly sworn according to Law, doth on his oath, make the following Declaration, in order to obtain the benefit of the Act of Congress passed June 7, 1832:-

That he entered the service of the United States under the following named officers, and served as herein stated --

1st. That he was born, on the 16th day of July, as he believes, in the year 1759, being now in his 76th year, at Monmouth C.H. in East Jersey.

2nd. That he had no record of his age, and being entirely illiterate, he knows not that any was ever made, but he derived this knowledge of his age verbally from his parents.

3rd. That he was living in Tinnicum Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, at the time of his first entering the service of the United States, as he believes in the year 1776; that the next year (1777) he removed with his father's family into Allen Township, Northampton County, where he resided afterwards during the continuance of the War, at or soon after the close of which, he married and removed to McGiesport in the same County, where he remained three years, and removed thence to Tulpahockan, thence after one season to Greensburg; thence after about six years, to Athens County, Ohio, where he had ever since continued to reside.

4th. That he first entered the service as a volunteer in a company raised and commanded by Capt. Nicky Patterson at said Tinnicum Township, for a tour of two months, in August or September (being as he remembers very hot weather) in the year 1776, and marched thence with said company to Newtown, Pennsylvania, thence to a place called the Tory's house, within about 21 miles of Philadelphia, where the Company, about 75 in number, was quartered as a guard of provisions and Stores, and remained until sometime in October or November. (The weather, as he recollects,having become quite cool) when the Company was dismissed and he returned home, having served as he verily believes, the full term of 2 months, a considerable portion of which time he was sick of a fever.

That in the month of December of the same year, about Christmas, as he well remembers, he again volunteered for a tour of two months in a Company raised and commanded by the same Capt. Patterson, who was a Merchant & Tavernkeeper at said Tinnicum, and marched directly to the Delaware River, when the Company joined General Washington's army, and a few night after crossed over to Trenton, where he was present and engaged in the battle that ensued. That his company was soon again detached, recrossed the Delaware, and marched to a place called Buslletonen, where they remained until about the first of March (being, as he remembers, very muddy weather) when they were dismissed and he again returned home, having served out a full tour of 2 months, mostly engaged in the arduous duties -

That in the fall of this same year 1777 (the month and day he cannot recollect with precision, further than that it was cool weather) having as before stated, removed to Allen Township, Northampton County, he again volunteered for a tour of two months, in a company raised and commanded by Capt. Frederick Coons, at said Allen Township, and marched them to a place called the Milkhouse Tavern: thence in the night to Germantown, thence, without having been closely engaged in the battle which occurred at that time, to a place called Frankfort Bridge, where the company was employed as a guard, to prevent the Tories from carrying provisions into Philadelphia, to the British, and remained at that place until dismissed, when he returned home, as he believes about the commencement of winter, having served at that time a full tour of 2 months.

That having remained at home till some time in the ensuing Spring, as he thinks in May, 1778, he enlisted for a term of seven months, in a company raised and commanded by Capt. Vannatta of Minisiuk, Lieut. Robert Fish, Sergeant Hallett, and marched to Easton, thence after a few days up the Delaware to a station commanded by Col. Jacob Stroud, when he remained 5 months, when for the purpose of returning home to assist his father, with the consent of his officers he replaced an able bodied substitute in his room, who served out the remaining part of his term of enlistment; and that his services (including two months by substitute) amount to one year and one month.

5th. That he does not recollect the names of any field officers under whom he served, except the before mentioned Col. Jacob Stroud at his Station on the Delaware, and a Col. Millen whom he sometimes saw at Frankport Bridge. That he recollects seeing many other officers at Trenton, and at the other ports where he served but does not remember their names. That he has a distinct recollection of the desertion to the British of the Drummer of his Company, which occurred the first tour he was out.

6th. That he does not remember receiving any written discharge, it having been the custom, if he remembers right, to dismiss the Company without ceremony or formal discharge at expiration of the term of engagement.

7th. That he has no documentary evidence of his services, and knows no person now living whose testimony he can procure. That he is well known to Dr. C. Brierce, Judges B. Carrier and G. Walker, Eol E. Dorr, Gen. J. Brown and many other reputable persons who he doubts not would willingly testify as to his character, for veracity, and their belief of his having been a soldier of the Revolution. That he is also well known to Rev. Asa Stearns who lately removed from the County, and also to Rev. W. Shurtliff, and to Rev. Dr. R. G. Wilson.

Tippey's Flood or Flood of '86.* On the night of the 6th October, 1786, Mr. Weiss' family was roused from sleep, between ten and twelve of the clock, by the cry of some one, "we are all surrounded!" At this cry, the first thought that struck them, was, the Indians had surprised them; but soon found they were surrounded by water, for the Lehigh had swollen so suddenly, and so high, that the whole flat of Fort Allen was inundated. To save themselves, they had to leave the house. They drove the sheep into the kitchen, and pent them up in the loft; the cattle were on the hills. Old Mrs. Robinson, the mother of Mrs. Weiss, and the children, were carried in a wagon to the higher ground; and Mrs. Weiss, between two and three in the morning, mounted behind her husband to go on horseback, but was obliged to dismount, for the horse could not possibly carry both, on account of the ground being so completely soaked that he sunk to the flanks; Mrs. Weiss, however, was carried in an arm chair, by some men, to the hill east of the canal.

At the same time, a house near the river, where the Lehigh bridge is, was swept away, with its inmates, Tippey, his wife, and two children. As the house was floating, each of the parents had a child by the hand—the house struck a tree, the parents caught by the limbs, were saved, but both children perished. In this predicament, Mr. Mullen, a sailor, at the instance of Mr. Weiss, took a canoe, and rescued Tippey and his wife, from the angry waves which had borne off their tender children.

In January, 1841, there was another flood, by which Weissport was inundated, and the bridge, over the Lehigh, was partly swept away. The flood of 1841, was two feet higher than Tippey's flood.

Weissport. The locality of this place is well known in the early history of this country as New Guaden Huetten, and Fort Allen. It was once a flourishing Moravian missionary station. The Moravians had commenced a settlement and missionary station, in 1746, west of the Lehigh river, in Mahoning valley, (of which an account is given when speaking of ——— township) but subsequently, left that place and located east of the Lehigh river, in 1754. Loskiel, in speaking of that removal, says, "in the removal of the buildings, the chapel only excepted, the Indians were kindly assisted by the congregations at Bethlehem, Nazareth, Christianbrunn, and Guadenthal, who furnished not only workmen and materials, but even contributions in money. Unanimity and diligence contributed so much, towards the progress of this work, that the first twenty houses were inhabited by the 4th, and the foundation stone of the new chapel laid on the 11th of June. Bishop Spangenberg offered up a most fervent prayer, and delivered a powerful discourse on this solemn occasion. The houses were soon after completed, and a regulation made in all the families, for the children, of each sex, to be properly taken care of. The dwellings were placed in such order, that the Makikans lived on one and the Delawares on the other side. The brethren at Bethlehem took the culture of the old land on the Mahony, upon themselves, made a plantation of it for the use of the Indian congregation, and converted the old chapel into a dwelling, both for the use of those brethren and sisters who had the care of the plantations, and for missionaries, passing, on their visits to the heathen. A synod was held in New Guaden Huetten, from the 6th to the 11th August, (1754,) and the chapel consecrated. Many Indian assistants were invited to this synod, the chief intention being maturely to consider the situation of the Indian mission."*

Military forces had been stationed here during 1756, and afterwards. "And," says Loskiel, "as both the Indian missionaries had left their effects and

JOHN MILLER TIPPIE FAMILY

My great grandfather was John Miller Tippie, son of Uriah and Leah (Cox) Tippie. He was born December 3, 1847 and died February 11, 1931, Dover Township. He was a Civil War veteran, farmer and rural mail carrier in Athens County. His father, Uriah, was born December 20, 1807 and died March 29, 1883. His mother, Leah (Cox) Tippie, was born December 5, 1822 and died February 27, 1899. They were the parents of 18 children.

My great grandfather, John Miller Tippie, married Margaret Ann Robb in December 1870. Margaret was the daughter of Eli and Polly (Pierce) Robb. She was born May 14, 1854 in Mercer County, Pa. and died November 1, 1923. John and Margaret were the parents of 11 children; the youngest was my grandmother, Ida Iona M. Tippie, born in Poston, December 30, 1893 and died February 1, 1977, Athens County. She married Robert Goodman, son of Robert and Martha (Thomas) Goodman, on July 1, 1916 in Parkersburg, W. Va. They were the parents of one son, Gerald Robert Goodman, born February 22, 1918, in Poston, Dover township.

My grandmother, Iona, owned the Park Hotel in Athens, owned and operated several restaurants in Chauncey and Alderman Road, County Road 111, Dover township, called the Big Elm Inn. She opened the Big Elm Inn in 1940 and it is still in operation today, 47 years later. Her son, Gerald, and his wife, Ruth, operate the small old fashioned bar, its interior painted pink and green, located in the basement of the Goodman residence. It is a gathering place for friends and neighbors, many former patrons return each year during O.U. Homecoming and Labor Day just to reminisce about the good old days.

Gerald is a veteran of World War II, serving with the Army 1501st Engineer Water Supply Company, stationed in England, France and Germany. He was awarded the European African Middle Eastern Service Medal with 5 Bronze Stars. He also fought in the Battle of the Bulge. He married Ruth Marie Stewart, daughter of Leonard and Bertie Lou (Savage) Stewart. They are the parents of two children, Gerald R. Jr. and Janice Sue.

Gerald R. Jr. married Lee Rae Osborne and resides in Orlando, Florida. They are the parents of a son, Gerald R. III. Gerald R. Jr. is the manager of Wometco Florida Amusements, Orlando, Florida.

Janice married Timothy Williams and resides in The Plains, Athens Township. They are the parents of two sons, Michael and Patrick. Janice is a secretary at Ohio University; her husband, Timothy, is a Performance A-Technician with C&SOE, Poston Station, Athens, Ohio. Submitted by Janice S. Williams

August 31, 1835

John B. Miller deeded the following described tract of land in section 34; T. 6, R. 13, towit: Beginning 43? (53?) rods from the southwest corner of Sec. 34, and thence running east 67 rods; thence north 80 rods; thence north 32° west 84 rods; thence west 23 rods, thence south 150 rods to the place of beginning. Containing acres, to John Tippie, Jr. for $250.00 (D.B. 7/517)

October 7, 1857

The said John Tippie, Jr. deeded about 254 acres in the southwest and north middle part of section 34, to Peter Hixon for $7000.00, (D.B. 24/285) therefore the cemetery doubtless was begun during the time Mr. Tippie owned the land.

It is said that Mr. Tippie was a "Spiritualist" and constructed an octagonal building near his residence where "seances" were held. During one of these "seances" he was told by a "spirit" to dig for lead nearby. He did so. To the east, somewhere in Ames Township and spent much of his resources. He then was told by the "spirit" to dig somewhere in Waterloo Township.

He had borrowed [sic] much money of Mr. Peter Hixon and his credit was much impaired when he wished to go into the Waterloo enterprise. He borrowed more money of Mr. Hixon and told him if he failed to repay it, the farm was his. He failed, and deeded the farm to Mr. Hixon for what he had loaned him. Mr. Tippie and his two sons then moved to the west.

Approximately 100 feet south of the Peter Hixon home, John Tippie, Jr. (1835-1857). Deed Book 7/517; 24/285) began a graveyard in which quite a number of persons were buried and marked with marble tombstones.

These tombstones were kept intact as long as Mr. Peter Hixon lived. After his death in some of his heirs buried them beneath plow depth at the lower end of the graveyard.

Mrs. Mary (Tippie) Spires, says there was one tombstone, she remembers of having the name of "Elizabeth Tippie, aged (she thinks) about 39 years." Another: "Mary Tippie". While her daughter, Miss Mattie Spires, says she remembers one of "Uriah Tippie", who died about January 3, 1847, aged 102 years, 11 months, 9 days. (Soldiers of the American Revolution Vol. 1, page 370.

A small marble footstone was found lying loose on which were the initials "U.T." (From the William E. Peters Papers)

J. H. Matthews and wife have lived in and about Boicourt since 1867, although there was no town there then and no roads and no bridges, so he can marvel at the changes that have come when some friend takes him for a ride over the ribbon of concrete known as the "Short Line." He helped to plat the present Trading Post Cemetery and to remove the bodies of the victims of the Marais des Cygnes Massacre to their permanent resting place where a beautiful monument commemorates their sacrifice. The Matthews children are Artie, Harry, Walter, Ora Falletti, Sylvia, Stambough and Ersie.

A lovable character of Lincoln township was Edward Holden Minton, born in England in 1835, and who came to Linn County in 1859. He married Addie Spencer, daughter of Elias Spencer and sister of Samuel who became state oil inspector. They had a daughter Neda, still living. Later he married Almeida Burgess, daughter of a Baptist preacher who lived in Lincoln township, and they had eight children named Nellie, Maude, Minnie, Meda, Beth, Thomas, Stella, and Verne.

"The world was young in those days", and being young it was beautiful and fresh and attractive and it ever beckoned on to new scenes the courageous souls who became acquainted with it. No wonder the wanderlust possessed so many, urging them on to new experiences and new conquests. We thought we had found the prize winner in Mrs. Shattuck of Pleasanton, who crossed the western half of the continent twice before the famous Ezra Meeker got started, but now we have found a strong contender for the championship. In the early "fifties" (probably 1854 or 1855) then about twenty years old, there came from his birthplace at Chambersburg, Pike county, Illinois, Edward Boyd Metz. He was a pioneer by experience, as his father Benjamin Blackford Metz had gone from New York State in those very early days, as his son Edward Boyd was born there in 1835 and at the age of twenty had married Emily Chambers Middaugh (or Gilbert, as there seems to be some confusion and uncertainty as to her family name) and they came to Linn County and took a full part in all that was going on. I don't find any trace of him in the Territorial days but in the troubled times of 1863 he was sheriff of Linn County, one incident of his term being the capture and trial and conviction and hanging by the neck until dead of one Griffith as a member of the crowd of thirty-two cutthroats who committed the Marais des Cygnes Massacre. That was a tremendous incident in a little frontier settlement during the feverish anxiety of the Civil War, and in addition to his work as sheriff this young fellow only twenty-eight years old was enlisting Company M for service in the Fifteenth Regiment, of which company he was elected captain. This regiment did important service out on the plains, acting as convoy to wagon trains and in punishing renegade bands of Indians. For a time Jennison was colonel of the Fifteenth, but got into difficulty and was cashiered. There were a lot of men in that regiment who later came to Linn County, among them Martin Funk, many years a citizen of La Cygne. Ben F. Simpson was captain of Company C. Henry M. Doud and his brother E. S. Doud of New Lancaster, afterward well known in Linn. Lee Mayfield at the age of seventeen, Oscar F. Dunlap was captain of Company H (and in 1870 built the present bridge at Trading Post), and in Metz's own Company M there were Calvin T. Bell, Jere Johnson, and Isaac A. Davis of Moneka, Francis Askens, Taylor W. Swaney, C. M. Tompkins of Twin Springs, William M. Bell, Ambrose Craft, John A. Craft, Alfred J. Pointer, James Arnett, Emmual Arnold, William H. Ayres, Justin N. Ayres, Francis Askens, A. B. Byram, Irvin R. Ball, Luther Bacon, Calvin Barnard, James D. Critcher, Levi Dickinson, Andrew Gore, John Hall, Phillip C. Hill, William Hendricks, David C. Hafford, Thomas S. Inman, Ephraim James, John C. Keller, Jacob Keitle, Eli Lamb, John T. Lindsay, John Morrison, Martin Morris, Simon L. Morgan, James H. Martin, Alfred J. Pointer, John C. Quinn, Samuel W. Rowcraft, Mathew Robinson, Charles Reynolds, Temple Shockman, George A. Shadler, William F. Shadler, James M. Symonds, John W. Symonds, Samuel V. Sands, Caius M. Tompkins, and Joseph D. Tippie. These were nearly all young men, many only boys of sixteen to eighteen years old up to John C. Quinn who was forty-five. These were the type of men in Company M who elected Edward Boyd Metz to be their captain. After the war the family lived in a "large two-story white house facing the main road, with a lot of wild strawberries on the hill back of the house", and later on at the "Woy" farm from where they moved to Pleasanton—and of course that was at least after 1871. But here is where the wanderlust starts again. They went to Colorado, where they visited Aunt Ruth Danford and daughter Lily. On the way west they saw great herds of buffalo and antelope. There were three of the Metz children now—Alice born in 1863, Benjamin Blackford born 1865, and Eva born 1868, all natives of Linn County. They lived in Canon City two years and Eva died there. The old pioneer spirit urged them on and they went to Southern Colorado and New Mexico. They were well equipped and comfortable in all weather, loitering along in the beautiful virgin country till they got to Las Vegas, New Mexico, where they actually

My great grandfather was John Miller Tippie, son of Uriah and Leah (Cox) Tippie. He was born December 3, 1847 and died February 11, 1931, Dover Township. He was a Civil War veteran, farmer and rural mail carrier in Athens County. His father, Uriah, was born December 20, 1807 and died March 29, 1883. His mother, Leah (Cox) Tippie, was born December 5, 1822 and died February 27, 1899. They were the parents of 18 children.

My great grandfather, John Miller Tippie, married Margaret Ann Robb in December 1870. Margaret was the daughter of Eli and Polly (Pierce) Robb. She was born May 14, 1854 in Mercer County, Pa. and died November 1, 1923. John and Margaret were the parents of 11 children; the youngest was my grandmother, Ida Iona M. Tippie, born in Poston, December 30, 1893 and died February 1, 1977, Athens County. She married Robert Goodman, son of Robert and Martha (Thomas) Goodman, on July 1, 1916 in Parkersburg, W. Va. They were the parents of one son, Gerald Robert Goodman, born February 22, 1918, in Poston, Dover township.

My grandmother, Iona, owned the Park Hotel in Athens, owned and operated several restaurants in Chauncey and Alderman Road, County Road 111, Dover township, called the Big Elm Inn. She opened the Big Elm Inn in 1940 and it is still in operation today, 47 years later. Her son, Gerald, and his wife, Ruth, operate the small old fashioned bar, its interior painted pink and green, located in the basement of the Goodman residence. It is a gathering place for friends and neighbors, many former patrons return each year during O.U. Homecoming and Labor Day just to reminisce about the good old days.

Gerald is a veteran of World War II, serving with the Army 1501st Engineer Water Supply Company, stationed in England, France and Germany. He was awarded the European African Middle Eastern Service Medal with 5 Bronze Stars. He also fought in the Battle of the Bulge. He married Ruth Marie Stewart, daughter of Leonard and Bertie Lou (Savage) Stewart. They are the parents of two children, Gerald R. Jr. and Janice Sue.

Gerald R. Jr. married Lee Rae Osborne and resides in Orlando, Florida. They are the parents of a son, Gerald R. III. Gerald R. Jr. is the manager of Wometco Florida Amusements, Orlando, Florida.

Janice married Timothy Williams and resides in The Plains, Athens Township. They are the parents of two sons, Michael and Patrick. Janice is a secretary at Ohio University; her husband, Timothy, is a Performance A-Technician with C&SOE, Poston Station, Athens, Ohio. Submitted by Janice S. Williams preached the first sermon, in a frame building on the north side of the square, and in 1873 Rev. McWhirt bought the schoolhouse which had been built in 1870, and it was dedicated as a house of worship. Soon after the advent of Methodism the Presbyterian church got a foothold, and erected a fine brick and stone building, at a cost of thirty-six hundred dollars. Rev. McClure was its first pastor. Then came the Christian, the Episcopal, and other churches, until Girard may well be called a city of schools and churches.

First Murder.

About the 25th of April, 1866, occurred the first murder and lynching, near Monmouth. The facts are well given by J. F. Price, editor of the Cherokee Sentinel, and we let him tell the story in his own language. He says: "It must have been about the 25th of April, 1866. Myself and wife, and her father, Lars Larson, arrived in the vicinity of Monmouth on the 14th of April, 1866, and settled down for a few days, in a cabin belonging to A. M. Watson, now living in Pittsburg. The cabin was on Lightning creek. The day after we settled in the cabin we started out to hunt up a claim of our own. We found nothing to suit us until we came to a place, now occupied by Thomas Hayes, three miles west of where Cherokee now is.

"Here we stuck our stakes, and went down to Uncle Jake Miller's place, and registered as a settler, which entitled men to membership in a league, that meant riding on a rail any man who jumped the registered rights of a settler. After a rainy spell of a week we moved out to our claim. Not a stick had been cut toward building a cabin, but we camped on the prairie, at the edge of the woods, and began building a house of round poles, after the plan of a pen. This we sloped on one side, and covered with split boards, and made a rude door. The next day we went for the remainder of our goods, and more boards, leaving the wife, then a young woman, to keep house.

"On our return at noon we were told that a man had been there with an order for every member of the league to come to Monmouth at once, as a murder had been committed. Thinking the order meant expulsion, or court martial, not exactly understanding the nature of the institution we had joined, we left the team with wife, after showing her how to load and shoot a revolver and after having her practice shooting, and left her alone to keep the house, three miles from neighbors, and started to Monmouth. When we arrived at Monmouth, which consisted of a log store house, we found that a man by the name of Lem Shannon had been shot by robbers, and there was great excitement. Hundreds of settlers were there, but cool heads kept them quiet.

"The circumstances of the murder were as follows: Ralph Warner, a settler across the creek south of Monmouth, was the owner of a large herd of cattle. Fort Scott was then the postoffice, although forty miles away, and also the place where the stockmen met. On one of his trips to Fort Scott, Mr. Warner met the Tippie boys, who lived in Linn county. They were considered hard characters, and were accused of robbing their uncle of several thousand dollars, a few weeks before. They wanted to buy Warner's cattle, and a trade was made, which amounted to several thousand dollars. Mr. Warner's friends warned him that he was in danger of being robbed of his money either at home or on the road from Fort Scott.

NOTE: first names not cited

"The plan of the Tippie boys was to buy the cattle and rob Mr. Warner of the money the same night. Two of the Tippie boys came down and stayed several days, and one evening just before dark paid for the cattle and started in the night with them for Fort Scott. Mr. Warner gather in the neighbor men as fast as he could, and prepared for the attack, thinking it would be that night. Just at dark two men were seen coming toward the cabin, but the men lying under the wagons outside, supposing them to be neighbors, paid no attention to them. The first thing to attract attention was the firing of guns in the house. The two other brothers had walked in on the waiting crowd and begun their work of death. Warner's brother-in-law Lem Shannon, had his pistol apart cleaning it, and he at once closed with the foremost robber, and was shot while in his arms. A man by the name of William Lamb did the best he could and shot off the thumb of one of the robbers. The women held on to Mr. Lamb so as to prevent him doing effective work. Mr. Warner ran to the woods with the money and the robbers after him, but he escaped. Then there was hurrying to and fro, and a posse was sent after the men with the cattle to arrest them as accomplices. By this time black clouds rolled over the heavens, the lightning flashed, the thunder roared, and there was a deluge of rain, but on went the posse and overtook the men and cattle near the present site of Farlington. They took the men prisoners and drove the cattle back to Monmouth. Then there was a call for the league. No trace of the real murderers could be found, but it was evident that the men with the cattle would have to suffer as accomplices.

"It was decided that they should have a fair trial. There was no law or officers, in fact the county was not organized. Jacob Miller was elected judge, and others appointed to prosecute and defend, and so the trial began. Men were sworn and witnesses examined with as much form as if in a properly constituted court. Men paced the room with Winchesters, while outside a cordon of armed men stood guard. They expected that a band of robbers would try to liberate their fellows. We stayed until after dark, hoping to see the end, but, remembering our young wife out on the prairie among the Indians and wolves, we shouldered a 25-pound sack of flour and took a dog-trot for the cabin four miles away.

"The outcome of the trial was that after hearing the evidence the jury decided that these men were accomplices, and the crowd was then asked to form a line and when the command should be given for those to step forward three paces who favored hanging, nearly every man made three steps and the procession started for the timber, where the Monmouth cemetery is now located, and the two men were hanged till dead, and were buried under the tree where they were executed. The cattle were afterward turned over to the uncle, who claimed that the purchase money was stolen from him by the men who were hanged."

Sunday Schools.

The first Sunday school held in the county was in the log store house of Lafe Manlove, at Monmouth, and was organized in 1866, Rev. Isaac Thorp being elected superintendent. Many people traveled for miles to attend this school.

Cherokee.

The town of Cherokee was laid out in 1870 and first named Litchfield. Among the first who settled in Cherokee were Captain Jameson, who built the first hotel, the Grand Central. J. W. Fletcher built a small frame store building, and Grandpa Price built one also. Dr. Cushenberry (now of Girard) was the first druggist. George W. Brown and G. W. B. Hoffman also erected a store building known as the "Blue Front."

It was in the immediate neighborhood of Cherokee, that Hon. Eugene F. Ware, late commissioner of pensions, and the Kansas poet laureate, had his first experience as a frontiersman. He had taken a claim here, and with a long whip and several yoke of oxen broke prairie. Here he farmed, batched, and cracked jokes, and was as entertaining a talker then as now. Later he taught school, studied law, and by his energy, vim and push has gone to the head of the procession, but he belongs to Crawford county, and especially to Cherokee, even though he resides in the city of Washington and rides in the president's carriage.

Like all western towns, Cherokee in her early days had her rough

Lots of negroes lynched after Civil War

August, 1991

I have researched, written and documented a 63 page genealogy-historical narrative entitled THE STORY OF URIAH TIPPIE OF OHIO (1759-1848) and of SOME OF HIS KANSAS DESCENDANTS IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.

Uriah Tippie was a Revolutionary War soldier who crossed the Delaware with Washington's troops at the Battle of Trenton (War File #W25487). He was a pioneer farmer and shoe-cobbler in Athens County, Ohio from earliest statehood. Some of his Kansas descendants settled in Linn County in 1859 during the turbulent days of "border troubles"; these got caught up in the ensuing guerrilla warfare and its tragic aftermath.

The work is now in from the printers; it is ready to be bound in soft cover.

One copy will be sent to the Family History Archives in Salt Lake City. The remaining four copies are to be distributed to selected Kansas and Ohio Historical Libraries, and/or County Historical Societies - gratis, of course.

Should your Association be interested in receiving one of these copies, please inform me of your request.

Sincerely yours,

PIONEER DEAD IN CALIFORNIA

William French, Father of J. M. French of Keokuk and Himself a Former Prominent Citizen, is Summoned.

AT AGE OF EIGHTY-SEVEN

Wm French

Father of the Abolition Movement in Van Buren County and Organizer of the First Colored Sunday School Here.

aroline Tipton resided here in his home in 1850 - In Census.

William French, father of J. M. French of Keokuk, died in Los Angeles, Calif., at 11 p. m. Friday, November 15, at the home of his daughter, Sarah E. Muncy, at the age of eighty-seven years. He was one of the pioneers of southeastern Iowa when he moved from Keokuk to California in 1887. In 1906 he returned here for a visit with his son and remained here from May until October. He was a powerful man, of striking appearance and during the time he was here he visited at Bentonsport, Keosauqua and elsewhere, in company with his son, where he met many of his friends of an early day when he was one of the most prominent citizens of Van Buren county. Mr. French announced, while he was here a year ago, that he had spent his twenty-first birthday in Iowa and was anxious to spend his eighty-sixth anniversary with his son in Keokuk, which he did.

When he left Keokuk in October, 1906, he went to Los Angeles, then to Santa Ana, where he spent the winter at the home of his oldest daughter, Mrs. J. A. Henderson, where he remained for eight months. While there he contracted a disease known as old folks pneumonia, and although he recovered from it, his system was all run down in consequence, and he was taken back to Los Angeles sixty days ago. He had grown quite feeble and a complication of diseases set in, which resulted in his death, the end coming peacefully and without apparent pain.

A Noted Abolitionist.

William French was born in Reynoldsburg, Ohio, June 20, 1820, and came to Iowa in 1842, settling in Washington county, where he engaged in the mercantile business. The following year he returned to his native town, where, on October 30, 1843, he was united in marriage with Miss Mary Collier, who died in 1903.

In 1844 Mr. and Mrs. French moved to Birmingham, Van Buren county, and to Bentonsport in 1859 and to Keokuk in 1862. He engaged in the grain and produce business here, and was accounted a successful man.

While he was a resident of Van Buren county Mr. French developed pronounced abolition views, and was, in fact, the father of the abolition movement in that county before the war. He was bitterly opposed to slavery and was [illegible] public. The result was that at a public meeting in Keosauqua he was mobbed by a crowd of southern sympathizers, but managed to get out of it without serious injury.

After he came to Keokuk he put forth his best efforts in behalf of the freeing of the slaves, and was instrumental in creating a great deal of public sentiment along that line. And in order that the race he championed could receive the benefits of Christian education, he was instrumental in organizing the first colored Sunday school in Keokuk, the old Catholic church on Second street, which can be remembered by all the older residents, being used for that purpose.

About His Family.

Mr. French came from a family noted for their loyalty to their country and to the Stars and Stripes. He was patriotic to the core, as was his father before him. He was a member of the United Presbyterian church from childhood days and a consistent believer in all its teachings, as were his parents before him. When his father, removed from York state in 1832 they stopped near the present site of Reynoldsburg, Ohio, which was first called French town, in honor of John French, who platted his farm and laid out the town. It was after named Reynoldsburg for General Reynolds, who opened the first store. He was the only survivor of his father's family. Of his own family of six children, three are living—a son J. M. French of Keokuk and two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Henderson of Santa Ana, Calif., and Mrs. R. E. Muncy of Los Angeles. Nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren also survive. His daughters were former well known Keokuk women. Mrs. Muncy graduated from the Keokuk public schools and was a teacher for about three years, until she was obliged to resign her position and go west for her health, Mrs. Henderson will be remembered in Keokuk as Miss "Beena" French.

One of the proudest days in his life was when, on the occasion of his visit here in 1906 he sat for a photograph, which included the male members of four generations of the French family—William French, his son J. M., his grandson E. A., and his great grandson E. A. Junior. He was a good man, his was a life well spent and he has gone to his reward, leaving behind him nothing but good. He will be buried in Los Angeles cemetery, beside the body of his wife.
